SCARLET fever is epidemic in Johnstown.

THE Cambria Iron Company owns and has seven locomotives.

RICE & EWING's hardware store in Greenville, was burned on the 7th inst. Supposed to be incendiarism. Loss about $10,000; fully insured.

TITUSVILLE, which is not named in the census of 1860, now numbers nearly 9,000, while Meadville, which is credited with 8,702 in 1860, now falls considerably below Titusville in population.

THE Lippencotts in Philadelphia, besides their enormous book making and selling trade, publish four magazines monthly, and are about to start a semimonthly journal called The Medical Times.

JOHNNY STEELE, is said to have recently received a letter requesting his instructions concerning $20,000 which he deposited in a New York Bank, during the high day of his prosperity and had utterly forgotten.

SETH T. HURD, Esq., of the Brownsville Clipper, went out riding with Helmbold in New York, with footmen, outriders and $30,000 worth of horse flesh, a fact which took his breath away to the extent of half a column.

A YOUNG man of Columbus township recently interfered with the parson's perquisites, who was about to kiss the bride. The bridegroom assured the preacher that as he had paid for the ceremony, he was not going to have any of that fooling.

A NEW lodge of Odd-Fellows was instituted on Thursday, in Erie, by warrant and dispensation of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, by Past Grand J. W. Stokes, of Philadelphia. The new organization is known as Lake Shore Lodge, No. 718.

A MAN named John Ellis was drowned in Frenchcreek, at Meadville, on Friday. His hat blew off and fell into the creek, and in attempting to recover it he got beyond his depth and being unable to swim was drowned before he could be rescued.

THE Greenville Argus says: Stoneboro was the scene of a Base Ball Tournament on the 4th, in which the Greenville, Sharon and Mercer clubs participated—and also of a free fight in the evening, in which some excellent (brick) batting was done by a few Mercer roughs.

ON Tuesday last, at President, Venango county, a young lady named Mimm, while attempting to start a fire by pouring oil in the stove, was so severely injured by the explosion of the can, that she died the following day. Another warning to those who daily resort to this means of starting fires.

THE Butler American says: We learn that a fight occurred at or near Coylesville, this county, at a picnic on the 4th inst. One man is reported as very severely stabbed and others injured. The name of the man doing the cutting is Drake, but we have not learned the name of the injured man nor any other particulars.

THE Tidioute and Titusville Railroad looms up in all its fair proportions; books are open for subscriptions at the office of James Parshal, and there is a fair prospect that the stock will be speedily taken, and that ere long the sonorous voice of the steam demon will echo and re-echo among the hills of dashing, roaring Gordon run.

ALEXANDER SHAW, a farmer, living near Newry, Blair county, heard a disturbance among his horses the other night, and went out to asertain the cause thereof. He did not return. In the morning he was found on the premises, quite dead, with his side crushed in and otherwise horribly injured. The horses had kicked him to death.

THE Republican County Convention of Mercer county will be held on August 1st. The Committee appointed Aug. 29th for the meeting, but changed it at the request of a number of voters who thought such a request was an easier, cheaper, quieter and less hazardous method of correcting supposed evils than the formation of a new party would be.

THE Presiding Elders and others of the Jamestown, Erie and Fredonia districts have fixed upon Fair Point, on Chautauqua Lake as the proper place for locating ground for a yearly camp meeting of the Methodist denomination, and an appeal is made to the members of that church to contribute the necessary funds to make the purchase and fit up the premises.

MR. L. M. FULTON, of Hickory township, Forest county, on Saturday last, shot a very large buck deer, and on his way to White Oaks shot a yellow rattle snake, which measured four and a half feet in length and had fifteen rattles. Now, if any one can beat this for a rattle snake, let's hear from them. The venison was purchased by the Messrs. Humason, of the Venture House, White Oaks.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Washington Chronicle, writing up the oil region, states that Johnny Steele, the ex-petroleum millionaire, is dead. This will be much news to Johnny, who is said to have lately received a dispatch from New York that there was $20,000 which he deposited there several years ago, and had probably forgotten all about. The report of his death doubtless grew out of various "dead" investments.

ABOUT noon Monday, two men, boisterously intoxicated, drove through the streets of Pleasantville in a farm wagon, and amused themselves by throwing potatoes at people whom the met. Soon afterwards they drove out of town towards Tyrrel's, and on descending the hill at Bean farm the horses ran away, running off the bridge and throwing both men out upon the ground. One of them was instantly killed, and the other fatally injured.

THE Somerset Herald tells the following serpent tale: While the driver of the stage coach, one day of last week, was on the way from Cumberland to Somerset, he passed on the road side a large black snake, measuring from eight to ten feet, and while endeavoring to kill it the snake ran before him, up the side of the stage into the boot. The passengers in the hack were greatly frightened, and all jumped out declaring that they would go no farther unless the snake was killed. With a great deal of labor the baggage was all taken out, when the snake was found in one corner of the boot and at once dispatched.

Idolatry of the Thermometer.

It is hard to explain on any intelligible basis, except, perhaps, that itching for unprofitable knowledge born into our nature, the eager curiosity of most people during very hot weather to know the variations of the thermometer. All day long an eager crowd may be found studying, under the full blaze of the sun, the weather bulletin of the Western Union Telegraph Company. We all seem to take a certain pride in being a little warmer than our neighbors, and to know that to-day is the hottest on record for a number of years fills us with secret satisfaction. It is something to be ahead of the rest of the world, even in discomfort.

But the worship of the thermometer seems not only absurd, but also foolish in no slight degree. For it sets the imagination working, and so if it does not actually add to one's physical discomfort, at least disposes the system to succumb more readily to the heat. To prohibit by law the sale or exhibition of thermometers during a hot spell, would be, perhaps, an unwarrantable stretch of authority, but the wise man who possesses one will lock it up when the dog star rises, and steadily refuse to look at it until the setting of the same. Of the weather records one may safely say that "a little learning is a dangerous thing." The moment we see that the mercury is above ninety we begin to feel the heat ten times more than ever. In fact, watch the thermometer and you need never expect to be cool. The best way is to go about your business, if you have any and pay no attention to the heat.—N. Y. Times.

While a portion of the mob were lacerating Bailey, others remained at the house and gave vent to their savage spirit by tarring and feathering Mrs. Bailey's head. And one God forsaken specimen of humanity played his part by using his foot on a little girl of eleven years, because she got from her bed and attempted to escape from the premises. This outrage was committed on a citizen whose character stands untarnished in the community where he resides."

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

We find the following in the California Medical Gazette, from a correspondent:

"Some weeks since I was called to an infant of six months old, who was in a dying condition apparently from the effects of a narcotic poison. It had taken no medicine except this syrup, of which it had taken, within ten hours, two doses of about one teaspoonful each. I had the syrup from which these doses were given, analyzed by a skillful chemist. There were ten drachms of soothing syrup in the vial, and it yielded of morphia and other opium alkaloids, 1 14-100 grains, very nearly one grain to the ounce of syrup.

"This result astonished me. The printed directions for administering the medicine are as follows: 'For a child under one month old, six to ten drops; three months old, half a teaspoonful three to four times a day until free from pain. In dysentery repeat the above dose every two hours, until the character of the discharge is changed for the better. Here we have a dose of morphine equal to ten drops of laudanum given to a child of three months every two hours, and double the quantity to a child of six months old.

"I have always discountenanced the use of this preparation, as I did not know its composition and supposed it was some anodyne; but I had no idea of its deadly strength. It is a familiar fact that children are very susceptible to the influence of opium, and four drops of laudanum have been known to kill an infant of nine months. I think it important that this analysis should be published, that the profession, and through it the public, may be warned of the fearful effects of administering this dangerous popular nostrum. The quantity used in the community is enormous; doubtless it has killed hundreds of children, and would kill thousands, were it not by beginning in very small doses and gradually increasing, a tolerance of the immediate poisonous effects is induced, although the misera ble little victims of domestic drugging are reduced to puny and cachetic creatures, that are carried off by the first disease that takes hold of them.

"I have ascertained that there are about 100,000 two ounce bottles of it sold annually in this city, making 200,000 ounces of Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup, contain ing 180,000 grains of morphine' which are given annually to the babies of this State. No wonder that one-third of them die before they reach the age of two years!"

CHEERFUL PEOPLE.—God bless the cheerful people—man, woman or child, old or young, illiterate or educated, handsome or homely. Over and above every social trait stands cheerfulness. What the sun is to nature—what God is to the stricken heart which knows how to lean upon Him—are cheerful persons in the house and by the wayside. They go unobtrusively, unconsciously, about their silent mission, brightening up society around them with the happiness beaming from their faces. We love to sit near them; we love the expression of their eye, the tone of their voice. Little children find them out, oh! so quickly, amid the densest crowd, and passing by the knitted brow and compressed lip, glide near, laying a confiding little hand on their knee, lift their clear young eyes to those loving faces.

FIRST EDITION.

MIDNIGHT.

41ST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

Closing Hours of the Session—All the Appropriation Bills Passed—The Case of Georgia Finally Disposed of—Six Millions of Dollars to be Placed at the Disposal of the President for Indian Service.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]
WASHINGTON, July 14, 1870.

SENATE.

Mr. HOWARD, from the Conference Committee on the Georgia bill, reported that the Committee were unable to agree upon a report and moved that the Senate concur in the House amendments. He thought the bill ought to be passed at this session, and this could be accomplished and the whole question settled by concurrence.

Mr. TRUMBULL opposed the proposition as involving the abandonment of the position of the Senate in maintaining the right of the people of Georgia to hold an election during the coming fall.

Upon this suggestion Mr. HOWARD withdrew his motion, with a view to the possible settlement of the matter in the Conference Committee.

Mr. SUMNER, from Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a bill for the relief of Nicholas P. Trist, negotiator of the treaty of Guadaloupe Hidalgo.

Various private bills were reported and acted upon.

Mr. WILSON, from the Military Committee, reported adversely the bill directing the Secretary of the Interior to deliver the Mount Vernon relics to Mrs. Mary Custis Lee. He was personally in favor of the bill, but had been overruled by the Committee.

On motion of Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, the bill to construe the act of March 21st, 1868, was passed. It allows a drawback on cotton goods exported prior to May 1, 1869, where internal tax was paid on the raw cotton, being intended to remedy the deficiency in the ruling of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. ANTHONY was elected President of the Senate pro tem, to preside during recess, the Vice President having vacated the chair for the purpose.

The bill for a pension of $3,000 per annum to Mrs. Lincoln being considered, Messrs. BAYARD and MORRILL, of Vermont, opposed the bill as creating a bad precedent, and Messrs. CARPENTER and CAMERON favored it.

Finally the bill passed—yeas 28, nays 20.

The bill to constitute Houston, Texas, a port of delivery, was passed.

Mr. CHANDLER moved to take up the bill to encourage the building of American vessels to engage in foreign trade, the passage of which he said was deemed by the Administration a matter of vital importance.

The bill was taken up and read. The first section allows a drawback equal in amount of duty paid on all foreign material imported to be used in the construction of vessels for foreign trade, and provides that upon all domestic material so used there shall be paid an amount equal to the amount of duty that would have been imposed had such materials been foreign. The second section exempts from impost and internal duty all ship stores and coal for the use of vessels from the United States to foreign ports, and allowing them to be taken in whole packages in bond. The third section provides that for eight months from the passage of the act American registers may be issued to foreign built iron ships for foreign trade.

Mr. SHERMAN was opposed to paying back drawbacks or duties already received by the Government, and moved to strike out the first two sections.

Mr. CONKLING was in favor of taking advantage of the opportunity offered by a foreign war to extend over carrying trade.

Mr. CORBETT favored a retention of the first two sections, believing the payment of drawback equivalent to the duties that would be collected on ship building materials should be paid, as a means of stimulating the building of ships in our own ship yards. He argued the effect of the third section would be to flood the country with old ships, as there would not be time within eight months to build abroad.

Mr. MORRILL, (Me.) took similar ground, remarking the probabilities of a foreign war were not sufficiently imminent to justify the passage of the third section.

A motion by Mr. DAVIS to table the bill prevailed—yeas 21, nays 19.

Mr. RAMSEY announced the death of his colleague, Hon. D. S. Norton, which occurred at Washington the evening previous. He said in view of the little time of the session remaining, addresses appropriate to the occasion would be reserved till next session. He then offered a resolution for the appointment of a Committee of three members of the Senate and five of the House to attend the remains to the place of interment.

The resolution was adopted, and Messrs. Ramsey, Thurman and Stockton named as the Committee of the Senate.

Mr. DRAKE, from Conference Committee on Naval Appropriation bill, submitted a report, which was adopted.

Mr. WILSON submitted the report of the Conference Committee on the army appropriation bill and stated the provisions of the bill agreed upon. The pay of the General of the army was fixed at $13,500, with $300 per month as commutation for fuel and quarters, and $600 per annum for forage, making the whole compensation $17,700. The pay of the Lieut. General was fixed at $11,000, with fuel, quarters and forage, being a reduction of $1,300 on his present pay. The officers in active service are not allowed to hold civil office. Retired officers may hold office. This entitles General Sickles to continue in his position as Minister to Spain. Upon the matter of brevets in the army it was provided that the officer shall not wear the uniform of his brevet rank while on official duty, leaving it optional with him to wear it at any other time. The provision allowing supernumerary officers the alternative of discharge upon their own application, or furlough without pay, is stricken out, and provision made for their muster out summarily after the first of January next.

Mr. NYE argued the Senate had by a direct vote refused to assent to the propositions recommended by the report. He thought the privilege to brevet officers to wear their uniforms at a specified time might suit a live army, but he regarded it a direct insult to the officers who bravely earned their uniform. The proposition to muster out supernumerary officers, that remnant of veterans who were already being fast swallowed up by death, was liable to all the objections previously urged against it. He preferred to have the present law as to all these matters remain as present.

Upon the suggestion of Mr. WARNER, the report was temporarily withdrawn for the purpose of correction.

At 3:50 the Senate went into Executive session for one hour and then took a recess.

Evening Session.—A large number of House bills were passed, among others granting condemned ordnance to the Seventh Regiment Monument Association of Ohio and for inventories of accounts of property of the United States on public buildings and grounds belonging to the United States.

On motion of Mr. HARLAN, the Senate adhered to its amendment to the Indian Appropriation bill, and referred the House bill placing six millions at the disposal of the President for Indian service to the Committee on Appropriations.

Reports of conference committees on Sundry Civil Appropriation bill and Deficiency Appropriation bill were adopted.

A message was received from the President, returning with his objections the bill providing for the payment of bounties to certain Alabama and Florida troops.

On motion of Mr. WILSON, the message was ordered to be printed and the whole subject went over until next session.

Mr. HOWARD submitted the Conference Committee's report on the Georgia bill, in favor of the House bill, with an amendment declaring that nothing in that or any other act of Congress shall be construed to affect the term to which any officer has been appointed, or any member of the General Assembly elected, as prescribed by the Constitution of Georgia.

Mr. DRAKE enquired whether it was not the effect of the bill, as amended, to compel an election next fall?

Mr. HOWARD replied he did not understand the bill affected that question at all, but left it where it was before, to be decided according to the provisions of the State Constitution.

Mr. THURMAN, member of the committee, said the amendment would secure an election this fall, unless usurpation was resorted to.

Finally, the report was adopted without objection.

Bills passed dividing the State of Virginia into two Judicial districts, and appropriating four condemned cannon to each of the following places, to aid in the erection of Soldiers' monuments: Bridgeport and Eastford, Conn., Quincy and Peoria, Ills., Morristown and Trenton, N. J., Pittsburgh and Chambersburg, Pa., and the National Soldiers' Cemetery in Western Virginia; also, to the Lincoln Monument Association as much bronze as may be necessary to cast the principal figures of said monument.

Mr. MORRILL (Maine) from the Committee on Appropriations, reported back the bill placing five millions of dollars at the disposal of the President to maintain peace with the Indians and for Indian service. The committee recommended an increase of the amount to six millions as the aggregate of sums in regard to which the two Houses had agreed. They also reported a section making specific provisions for the expenditure of the money—first to pay general and contingent expenses of the Indian department, second to carry out treaty stipulations, third to meet the demands of the Indian service in Territories and States of California, Oregon and Nevada, by providing for the purchase and supply of goods, agricultural implements, live stock, &c., and for the support of schools, workshops and for necessary clothing and subsistence where no special provision is made by treaty stipulations, and fourth for the survey of reservations in accordance with treaties.

After a long discussion Mr. Trumbull's amendment, substituting for Indian appropriation bill as passed by the Senate the House bill, was agreed to, and the bill as amended passed.

Mr. WILSON submitted the report of the Conference committee upon army appropriation bill, which was adopted.

At 1:30 the Senate went into Executive Session.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. FERRY reported the bill donating for school purposes a certain lot of land, with building thereon, known as the old Indian Dormitory, in the village of Mackinaw. Passed.

Mr. SAWYER reported the bill to repay the city of Milwaukee $100,000 advanced for the construction of a new harbor. Ordered printed and committed.

Mr. COBURN reported the bill to provide for inventories of property of the United States in the District of Columbia. Passed.

Also, a bill to provide for the report of receipts and expenditures of the secretary and clerk of the House of Representatives.

Mr. CHURCHILL introduced a bill to allow steamboats of the Canadian Navigation Company, built in the United States, to carry passengers and baggage between American ports. Passed.

The House then went to business on the Speaker's table.

The Senate amendments to House bills were concurred in, as follows:

To discontinue the Clarksville (Ark.) Land District.

For the relief of the United States and Brazil Mail Steamship Company.

To require National Banks going into liquidation to retire circulating notes.

To declare forfeited to the United States certain lands granted the State of Louisiana for railroad purposes.

Granting the Painesville and Southern Illinois Railroad Company the right of way to build a bridge across the Big Wabash river.

To vacate Fort Dakota military reservation, Dakota Territory.

Objection was made to taking up Senate amendments to the Apportionment bill, and the bill remains on the Speaker's table.

The Senate bills on the Speaker's table were disposed of more summarily. They numbered about eighty, of which twenty-five were for railroad grants. The latter were objected to even before the clerk had time to read the titles. Others were either objected to and remained on the Speaker's table or were referred to appropriate committees, with the exception of a few, which passed, viz:

For the relief of the Third Arkansas Cavalry.

Granting bronze ordinance for the erection of an equestrian statue of Gen. Rawlins.

Authorizing the continuance of the invention for post marking mail packages.

Repealing the bill granting a pension to Mrs. Ernestine Beecher.

Removing the political disabilities of G. H. Bird, of Maryland, and M. C. Butler, of South Carolina.

Amending the bankrupt law.

The Senate amendments to the House bill extending the provisions of the preemption laws to the Territory of Colorado were concurred in.

The Washington and New York Air Line Railroad was reached, but objection being made, it remains on the Speaker's table.

Mr. COX introduced a joint resolution reciting numerous petitions of wine and liquor importers and dealers in spirits for the repeal of special tax on sales, and that the tax is ten times greater than that in other branches of business, and providing it shall cease after the first of December, 1870. Referred to Committee of Ways and Means.

The bill for the relief of trustees of A. G. Sloo passed, as also the bill for the relief of Robt. Myer & Co., of Illinois, and the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to provide by contract for the manufacture of internal revenue stamps.

The Senate bill exempting canned and preserved fish from internal taxes was amended by including shell fish, meats, fruits and vegetables.

The bill amending the act of the 20th of June, 1864, by allowing the same rates of drawback of internal duties on brandy and other distilled spirits exported to foreign countries, as allowed on rum and alcohol, passed.

Also the following: Donating the United States barrack, &c., at Galveston, to that city.

Senate bill authorizing the Secretary of War to take charge of the Gettysburg and Antietam National Cemeteries.

Granting ordinance for a soldiers' monument at Cleveland, Ohio.

Removing political disabilities of W. C. Whitehouse, of Maury county, Tenn.

Mr. BUTLER, of Mass., from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill for the sale of lots and tracts of land on Sea Island, in Beaufort county, S. C.

During the discussion of the measure, the Speaker laid before the House the Senate concurrent resolution on the death of Senator Norton, and providing for a committee to attend the place of interment.

The resolution was concurred in.

Mr. WASHBURNE, from the Conference Committee on the naval appropriation bill, made a report.

Mr. DAWES reported that the Conference Committee on the Indian appropriation bill had been unable to agree, after ten or twelve laborious sessions. The two committees had taken positions in reference to the Indian treaties of 1868 that appeared irreconcilable, and are, therefore, now forced either to necessity of having a session called by a proclamation of the President to attend to the matter, or the responsibility of an Indian war. He had been authorized by the Committee on Appropriations to report an entirely new bill, appropriating five millions, to enable the President to maintain peace among the several tribes, bands or parties of Indians, or pay annuities to them and promote civilization among them, bringing them more practicably upon reservations and relieve their necessities and encourage their efforts at self-support—a detailed report of all expenditures up to that date to be made to Congress in December next. He admitted this was a kind of legislation which should be resorted to only in the last extremity. He would put no such power in the hands of the President, if he did not believe it was now the only practicable way of preserving peace among the Indians.

Mr. GARFIELD thought an appropriation of five millions, without recognizing treaties, would not prevent an Indian war, while an appropriation of four millions, with such a recognition, would prevent it, and he argued generally it was the duty of the House to carry out the provisions of treaties made by the Constitutional treaty making power.

Mr. SARGENT made a formal Conference report on the subject, and moved the House adhere to its position on the bill.

The motion, which terminates the matter and virtually kills the bill, was agreed to.

Mr. DAWES then called for a vote on the bill reported by him, placing five millions in the hands of the President for Indian purposes, and stated if it not passed members would be called back to an extra session before they reached the railroad depot.

The rules were suspended and the bill passed—yeas 123, nays 66.

Mr. LOUGHRIDGE, from Judiciary Committee, reported the bill ceding to the State of Ohio jurisdiction over the grounds of the National asylum for disabled soldiers. Passed.

The Speaker appointed Messrs. Wilson (Minn.) Wilkinson, Eldridge, Cullom and Archer as the Committee to accompany the remains of the late Senator Norton to place interment.

Mr. CLARKE, Kansas, from Committee on Indian Affairs reported a bill authorizing the Commissioners of Indian Indian Affairs to appoint guardians or trustees of minor Indian children entitled to pensions or bounties. Passed. The bill is confined to the Ninth Kansas Cavalry.

Mr. LYNCH offered a resolution authorizing the Select Committee on the Decay of American Commerce to report at next session.

A good deal of opposition was manifested, on the supposition that it would authorize the Committee to sit during recess. The resolution was modified to exclude that conclusion, and adopted.

Mr. MERCUR, from Committee of Conference on the bill to regulate the compensation of grand and petit jurors made a report, which was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. SCHENCK, the Senate amendment to the bill in reference to drawbacks on cotton goods was concurred in.

Mr. DAWES offered a resolution remitting all fines imposed on members for absence. Adopted.

Evening Session.—The first business was the suspension of the rules for the passage of the Senate bill for the extension of the patent of John Bachelder.

The efforts of several members to get the floor met with loud shouts for the regular order and the demand was responded to by Mr. DICKEY, who made a report from the Conference Committee on the army bill.

The report was agreed to.

Mr. DAWES offered a resolution to pay members of the Capital police, who were discharged on account of reduction of force, their pay through July.

The next proposition was one offered by Mr. BENJAMIN, to continue the pay of the clerk of Committee on Invalid Pensions during the recess.

On a vote by division and a subsequent vote by tellers, there was the requisite two-third majority, but the minority was strong enough to order the yeas and nays.

Before a vote was taken that way, a message was received from the Senate with announcements of enrolled bills.

The Speaker appealed to the members to take their seats and preserve order, but the appeal was generally disregarded by members, who chatted noisily in groups or moved around the hall, while a loud hum of voices from the floor, galleries, cloak rooms and passages made the scene rather confused and uproarious. Fans were actively in motion on the floor and galleries. Thermometer 90.

The result of the vote was adverse to the resolution, there being less than two-thirds in its favor.

The next matter that came up was the report by Mr. DAWES of the Conference Committee on the bill making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the Government.

After discussion it was agreed to, and also that on the additional deficiency bill. This was the last of the conference reports on appropriation bills.

The Senate amendment to the resolution for printing 225,000 copies of the Agricultural report for 1869, reducing the number to 225,000 copies, was concurred in.

Mr. DAWES moved to reconsider the vote agreeing to the conference report on the miscellaneous appropriation bill, remarking he had been mistaken as to the effect of the provision in reference to the appointees of the Mayor of Washington, and wanted to bring the matter again before the Conference Committee.

The motion was agreed to and the report recommitted.

Mr. CAKE moved to suspend the rules and postpone until December the bill to incorporate the Anthracite Railroad Co. Agreed to—yeas 116, nays 52.

Mr. BUTLER, of Mississippi, called up the Senate bill to relieve the political disabilities of certain citizens of Kentucky, seventy-one in number, and moved to suspend the rules and pass it.

Mr. STOKES entered a solemn protest against this partial legislation, as he had himself introduced bills every Monday to relieve the citizens of Tennessee, which bills the Reconstruction Committee had not acted on.

On a vote by tellers there was not a two-thirds majority.

Thereupon Mr. BUTLER, at midnight, withdrew the bill and made a report from the Conference Committee on the Georgia bill.

The report was agreed to and the House adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow.

—Treasurer F. H. Short, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad, refused to pay in gold the interest on the bonds of the Dayton and Michigan Railroad, guaranteed by the former road. It is probable a suit will be brought to compel payments.

FRANCE.

PEACE ASSURED, PROBABLY.

PARIS, July 14.—The preservation of peace is assured. Reports to the contrary originate with speculators.

The Journal de Soir contradicts the report which was circulated yesterday of the resignation of the Ministry. The French military attache at the Court of Vienna, now here, has received orders to return immediately to his post. Baron Bourgoing, Secretary to the French Ambassador, also returns to Vienna. Rumors of the resignation of the Ministry are continued, though generally discredited.

THE FRENCH MINISTRY CRITICISED.

Public opinion and the majority of the French journals are opposed to accepting the dispatch of the father of Prince Hohenzollern to the Spanish government as the final settlement of the question. Most of the journals assert that the Ministers went so far in their declarations that peace with direct acknowledgment on the part of Prussia would be more shame than success for France. The La Liberte, Moniteur, Pays, Opinione Nationale and the Public are especially bitter against the Ministry. The official journal, however, announces peace as settled.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE WAR MINISTER.

The Duke de Grammont, Minister of Foreign Affairs, announced to the Senate and Corps Legislatif that the Ambassador to Spain had officially made known the renunciation by Prince Hohenzollern of the Spanish crown. The negotiations which we have been pursuing with Prussia, the Duke said, has had no other object, but they have not yet terminated. So it was impossible to-day to furnish the Chambers and the country with a general expose of affairs. The Senate received this statement coldly. The Duke then asked the Senate to postpone the discussion on the interpellation until Saturday next, because Friday had been set apart for a discussion in the Corps Legislatif. The Senate hurriedly protested, but on the request of Rouher the proposition was assented to. The Senate will meet an hour earlier than usual that day in order to have more time for discussion.

CABINET DISAGREEMENTS—RESIGNATIONS.

11:00 A. M.—The Constitutionel denies the reported disagreements among Ministers, and states that no Minister has tendered his resignation.

1:00 P. M.—The report that Benedetti, the French Minister to Prussia, has been given passports, is confirmed, though unofficially.

1:30 P. M.—Segris joins Duke Grammont, Leboeuf and Bouily in tendering his resignation from the Cabinet on the question of war. Preparations for war are being continued on both sides. Great discontent is manifested in the French chambers on the situation, and the feeling is shared by the people generally.

The report that the Emperor will support the peace policy of Ollivier is contradicted.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

The Presse thinks the settlement of the question precarious and dangerous to France, simply enabling Prussia to choose a better opportunity. The Liberte demands a general congress of war. The Journal des Debats says the Prussian reply to France is insufficient.

GREAT PANIC ON THE BOURSE.

3:30 P. M.—There is a great panic on the Bourse. Rentes have fallen to 69f 15c.

FURTHER DEMANDS ON PRUSSIA.

The Journal says the French Cabinet, having received as a first concession the personal renunciation of the Spanish crown by Prince Leopold, has agreed to continue negotiations to obtain from the King of Prussia his official renunciation, now and forever, of all pretensions to the throne of Spain on the part of any member of the Hohenzollern family.

KING WILLIAM REFUSES TO CONCEDE.

It appears the King of Prussia has refused to receive Count Benedetti, or to sign the promise required of him by the French Government.

NAPOLEON AND MINISTERS IN COUNCIL.

The Emperor left St. Cloud this morning by special train, and reached the Tuilleries at noon. The Ministers having been summoned were all at the palace, and a council was held immediately.

EXPECTED DECLARATION OF WAR.

At half-past three the President of the Senate and Corps Legislatiff, then in session, was informed the Government would have a communication to make to those bodies before the close of the sitting. It is generally believed the communication will be a declaration of war.

It is positively asserted Count Benedetti has been ordered to return to France, and that he only awaits the departure of Werether, Prussian Minister, from France.

PACIFIC FROM SPAIN.

Advices from Madrid are pacific as far as Spain is concerned, and the Bolsa is buoyant. The Spanish Minister of the Interior sent envoys to the different courts to notify them of the acceptance by Spain of Prince Leopold's renunciation.

ANOTHER CHANGE IN THE SITUATION—PEACE MAY BE PRESERVED.

8 P. M.—The Emperor left at six on his return to St. Cloud. At the same hour the Chambers were informed no declaration would be made by the Government to-day.

It is reported that while the Ministerial Council was in session dispatches were received from the King of Prussia which changed the situation, and there is now reason to believe peace may be preserved.

The agitation throughout the city is extreme. The majority of the evening papers maintain a warlike tone, and groups in the streets seem strongly in favor of war.

PRUSSIA.

CALM, SERIOUS, RESOLUTE.

BERLIN, July 14.—The disposition of the people of Prussia seems to be calm, serious and resolute, determined to fight for national honor.

The Borsen Zeitung says that war is sure, because France wants it.

The Borsen Courier says: The French pretensions are a direct insult to Prussia and King William. War is inevitable.

KING WILLIAM AND THE FRENCH MINISTER.

1:30 P. M.—The King of Prussia in answer to the request of the French Government for guarantees that Prince Leopold should not accept the crown of Spain, has refused again to receive General Bendetti, the French Minister, and has informed him, through an aid-de-camp, that he had no further communication to make to him.

PRINCE WILLIAM LEAVES FOR BERLIN—WILD ENTHUSIASM OF THE GERMAN PEOPLE.

EMS, July 14.—Prince Frederick William will leave Ems to-morrow morning on a special train for Berlin. Benedetti, French ambassador, left at five P. M.

The German people unite in support of the King and wild enthusiasm prevails in the minor States. General Moltke is summoned to Berlin from the Silesian States. Prince Gortschakoff has gone Wiedbad.

GREAT BRITAIN.

FEELING OF GENERAL UNEASINESS.

LONDON, July 14.—The feeling throughout Europe is still one of general uneasiness. The tone of the official papers of France is eminently peaceful, but the other journals are hostile and warlike. Want of confidence at the Exchanges of various European capitals is a fair reflex of public sentiment.

The Telegraph thinks Europe must wait a short time for a definite answer on the question of peace or war. There is general dissatisfaction manifested in Paris at the removal of the prospects of war. This expression of the people may yet lead the Government to court strife rather than moderation.

The Times' editorial views the situation as more peaceful, and says that, if not absolutely settled, affairs are in a fair way for satisfactory arrangement. France and Prussia will withdraw from the correspondence on grounds of mutual esteem.

The Telegraph, of this morning, says though the Prince of Hohenzollern renounces the candidature and the King of Prussia endorses that renunciation, still it is too early to believe in peace. The formal reply of Prussia to that effect is the only thing that will restore confidence. The only response thus far has been haughty, offensive and extreme, and was doubtless designed to be firm and dignified.

A CHANGE IN THE SITUATION.

LONDON, July 14—1:10 P. M.—Everything is declining. There is great agitation upon the Stock Exchange, in consequence of the apparently authentic information that Prussia has given the French Minister, Benedetti, his passports.

The News says a change has taken place in the situation, and the utmost uncertainty prevails.

GERMAN PARLIAMENT CONVOKED.

The report that the North German Parliament has been convoked is repeated, with the addition that it will meet next week.

A STORY OF BISMARCK.

A story comes from Germany that Bismarck heard of Leopold's withdrawal while on his way to rejoin the King at Ems, whereupon he turned back and set out for his estates at Varsen.

Bullion in the Bank of England decreased £444,000 during the week.

THE WAR QUESTION IN PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Gladstone stated in the Commons today, in reply to a question from Mr. Disraeli, that the correspondence of the Government with foreign powers occasioned by the difference between France and Prussia, was incomplete, and the present was not the time for publication, but he would say the British Government, in common with European Cabinets, sustained the position taken by Grammont, that Spain was entitled to choose any one for King except a German prince.

A WILD PANIC.

There was a wild panic on the street after 'Change hours. An official statement that the bank had received £131,000 was not sufficient to restore confidence and much uneasiness still prevails. The panic is attributed to a rumor that Benedetti had been recalled.

PERSONAL.

The Sussex Gazette asserts that the Marquis of Bute never actually joined the Church of Rome.

Geo. M. Gifford, Lord Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals in Chancery, and Dr. James Copeland, the eminent medical author, are dead.

SCULLING MATCH ON THE THAMES.

The sculling match on the Thames between Kelly and Sadler, from Putney to Mortlake, was won by Sadler.

BELGIUM.

THE NEWS AT BRUSSELS.

BRUSSELS, July 14.—The French Emperor is dissatisfied with the mere withdrawal of Hohenzollern and persists that Prussia should formally disavow the candidature. The King of Prussia formally refuses, alleging that to accede to this would only produce more extravagant demands from France.

EFFORTS TO PREVENT A RUPTURE.

BRUSSELS, July 14, 2 P. M.—England, Russia and Austria are making energetic efforts to prevent a rupture, but so far no progress has been made.

ROME.

INFALLIBILITY DOGMA ADOPTED.

ROME, July 14.—In the Ecumenical Council yesterday, the dogma of infallibility was adopted by a vote of four hundred and fifty affirmatives to eighty-eight negatives, sixty-six conditional.

ROME, July 13th, VIA PARIS, July 14.—In the Council to-day, when the vote on infallibility was taken, six hundred and one fathers were present. Many who were on leave of absence had been hastily recalled to lessen the numerical importance of the opposition. The sitting was greatly agitated. The spectators were especially demonstrative and the gens d'armes were obliged to keep them back. Each father voted aloud as his name was called. Another sitting will be held, at which efforts will be made to persuade the dissenting members to reconsider their votes. Then the public congregation will be held and the new dogma promulgated.

AUSTRIA.

REVOLUTION IN ROUMANIA.

VIENNA, July 14.—The papers of this city announce that a revolution is imminent in Roumania. The Austrian Consul informed the Government that the days of Prince Charles were numbered.

EGYPT.

CAIRO, July 13, via PARIS, July 14.—The report that Egyptian troops had landed at the Bay of Ashab, on the Red Sea, and captured an Italian trading station there, is officially contradicted.

MARINE NEWS.

LIVERPOOL, July 14.—The steamer St. Andrew, from Quebec, has arrived.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON, July 14.—Consols 92⅝. American securities firmer and higher: Ten-Forties, 86; '62s, 87¼; '65s, 87⅛; '67s, 87⅛. Eries, 17½; Illinois, 111¾; Great Western, 25½. Stocks are dull.

LIVERPOOL, July 14.—Cotton is quiet and steady; middling uplands 9⅛d; Orleans 9⅝d; sales 10,000 bales. Wheat quiet and steady: California white 9s 6d; red western No. 2 8s 6d; winter 9s 8d@9s 9d. Flour, western firmer. Corn, mixed 31s. Oats 2s 5d. Barley 5s. Peas 37s 6d. Pork quiet at 102s 6d. Beef 112s 6d. Lard 71s 6d. Cheese 63s. Bacon 58s for Cumberland 6s 6d for short rib.

LONDON, July 14.—Tallow firm at 45s 3d. Sugar quiet. Rosin buoyant. Petroleum dull. Linseed Oil firmer at 31s. Pops 5s@5s 3d.

LIVERPOOL, July 14.—Cotton market closed drooping.

FRANKFORT, July 14—Evening.—Stock market greatly excited. American securities continue to decline; closed at 88.

ANTWERP, July 14.—Petroleum nominal.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—The story of the murder of Col. Griffin Halstead, father of M. Halstead, of the Cincinnati Commercial, is pronounced a canard.

—The Fenians Starr and Thompson were sentenced to two years, and Mannix, who pleaded guilty, to one year in the State prison.

—Mrs. Ellaison, living in Vernon, Wis., was struck with lightning on Wednesday while skimming milk in her cellar, and instantly killed.

—D. S. Norton, United States Senator from Minnesota, died Thursday morning at Washington City, of consumption. He had been confined to his bed for the last three or four weeks.

—Asa Andrews, a colored man, was shot and killed at St. Louis Monday night, and yesterday Monroe Johnson, colored, was arrested as his murderer, and Cassius M. Clay, also colored, as accessory.

—The Grand Lodge of Free Masons of Canada assembled at Toronto on Wednesday. Major Stevenson, Grand Master, delivered a long address and announced the order in a very prosperous and satisfactory condition.

—C. W. Whitney, District Attorney of Tazewell county, Ill., who has been recently tried for bribery and corruption and aquitted, has commenced thirty-eight suits for libel against as many different parties. The damages in each case are laid at $10,000.

—Capt. Van denies having been engaged in the duel reported at St. Louis. His name was coupled with the affair so emphatically and frequently that it was published. The matter is still shrouded in mystery, and the names of the seconds and the other principal is not yet known. Major Keith's wounds are doing well.

—The successful landing of another expedition in Cuba, in aid of the patriots, is announced. This expedition was not very large, but it will be of essential service to the Cuban army. It consisted of supplies of arms, munitions, clothing and medicines. This expedition is only part of the organized movement from this country.

—At Detroit, at an early hour yesterday morning, a house occupied by Mr. Phillips and her daughter was discovered on fire. When the flames were extinguished the two women were found dead, and their bodies horribly mangled. Murder and arson are suspected, and a man named Edward Hoag, who lived with the women, has been arrested on suspicion.

—A swindle, under the name of "Southwestern printing and publishing association," has been broken up at Cincinnati. The plan was to advertise to furnish leading magazines at a little less than half price. A box in the Postoffice was rented and many letters came to it. The man renting it gave his name J. B. Chadwick. Complaints from some of the subscribers induced an examination, but the swindler escaped, leaving a large number of letters which have been sent to the dead letter office.

—H. L. Davis, of the F. and A. telegraph, was before a justice of the peace, at Cincinnati yesterday afternoon, to answer a charge of receiving stolen property. It appeared from the evidence that at the time of the Western Union strike, Davis authorized one of his employes to pay ten dollars for a Western Union tariff book. One of the Western Union employes, who had struck, obtained the book and delivered it to a man in the Pacific and Atlantic office. Upon hearing the evidence the magistrate discharged Mr. Davis.

—The second annual regatta of the Northwestern Amateur Boating Association commenced on Detroit river to-day. The weather was delightful, the water smooth and the attendance very large. The first race, single sculls, mile and a half, was won by Curtis, of Chicago—time, 12.42. For six oared shell race there were five entries, distance three miles. The first prize was won by the Excelsiors, of Detroit; second, by the Undines, of Erie; time, 20.56. The race was somewhat interfered with by a tug with barges getting across the channel.

—A National Convention on penitentiary and reformatory discipline in prisons has been called to meet at Cincinnati in October, from the 11th to the 20th. The published programme says that the Hon. Speaker Blaine, of the United States House of Representatives, will preside, and that papers will be read from Florence Nightingale, Prof. Von Holtzendorf, of Prussia, Mr. Bonneville, De Marsaquay, of Paris, Inspector Brown, of Denmark, Sir Walton Crafton, Sir John Browning and Col. Henderson, of England. Delegates from all the States are expected, and the gathering will be the largest and most important of the kind ever held.

—The Directors of the Industrial Convention to be held at Cincinnati in September have determined to issue a call inviting the mechanics and manufacturers of the United States to convene in Cincinnati September 18th, 1870, one week after the opening of the grand Industrial Exposition, to consider various prominent subjects affecting the productive interests of the country, such as labor, wages, co-operative unions, health, safety and convenience in workshops and dwellings, industrial schools, weights and measures, patents, municipal and other imposts and such other subjects as may be presented and to take such action relating to the same as may be deemed expedient.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DETROIT, July 14.—Edward Hoag, the man arrested on suspicion of having murdered the two women this morning, has confessed to the deed. Mrs. Phillips, nearly seventy years old, was on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Clair, a widow, who was living with Hoag. His motive was money, which he endeavored to obtain by threats from Mrs. Clair. Upon her refusal to satisfy his demands, he procured a hatchet and struck her several times on the head. The noise aroused the old woman, who was sleeping in another room. Hoag hearing her scream, ran in and finished the bloody work. Mr. Phillips' head was literally cut to pieces. After having murdered both women, Hoag set both beds on fire with a kerosene oil lamp, took his trunk out and went to the water closet, where he remained until the neighbors were aroused by the dense smoke. After the fire was extinguished, Mrs. Clair was found to have crawled from the bed. She was removed to a neighbor's and died in about an hour.

Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, July 14.—Beeves—offerings about 950 head. Market dull but a shade higher, with sales at 5¼@5¾c; receipts 1160 and sales 1000 head. Sheep market fairly supplied, with sales free at 4@5¾c; receipts sheep and lambs, 5495 head. Hogs in fair supply and demand fair at 12¼@13c; receipts 6332 head.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NOMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The President has nominated F. T. Frelinghuysen as Minister to England, vice Motley recalled.

The following nominations were also sent to the Senate to-day: Chas. E. Delong, of Nevada, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Japan; Peter Neglee, Assistant Treasurer of the United States at Baltimore. Postmasters—Alexander M. Campbell, Salina, Kansas; J. T. Miller, Urbana, Ils.; Mrs. Bella E. Parchall, Lebanon, O.; Daniel P. Beaton, Oxford, O. James R. Leffery, Receiver of Public Money at Clarksville, Ark.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

The President sent to the Senate copies of correspondence relative to questions pending between the United States and Great Britain. Mr. Motley, in a letter to Secretary Fish, details a conversation with Lord Clarendon in January, during which Mr. Motley informed him that it was the desire of the President that when negotiations relative to the Alabama claims were resumed they be reopened at Washington. It further appears, in a letter from Lord Clarendon to Mr. Motley, May 24th, that Her Majesty's government considers it neither useful nor expedient to resume and continue controversial correspondence in which there is so little hope of one government being able to convince the other.

THE ENGLISH MISSION.

In the Senate Executive session this afternoon, when the nomination of Mr. Frelinghuysen as Minister to England was laid before the Senate, Mr. Sumner, supported by Mr. Cameron, favored reference to the Committee on Foreign Relations. The motion was agreed to. A single objection is sufficient to prevent the confirmation of a nomination the day it is received or reported, but it has been customary to confirm any nomination of an ex-Senator without reference. There was no debate.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate confirmed the following nominations:

Charles T. Thewatt, of Alabama, Consul at Rio Janeiro, vice West, declined; Peter Negley, Assistant Treasurer of United States at Baltimore; Charles E. Delong, of Nevada, now Minister Resident, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Japan.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT.

The President to-night approved the following bills, besides a large number of others of no general interest: The bill to reduce taxation; to fund the national debt; extending the provisions of preemption laws to Colorado; requiring National Banks going into liquidation to retire their circulating notes; to create Kansas City, Mo., Port of Delivery; granting pension to Mrs. Lincoln.

WITHDRAWN.

The President has withdrawn the nomination of John Olliver as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, at the request of Olliver.

AT THE CAPITOL.

The President and Cabinet were at the Capitol to-night engaged in the examination of bills.

CUSTOMS.

The receipts of customs last week were $2,846,253.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]
NEW YORK, July 14, 1870.

THE ORANGEMEN DIFFICULTY.

John Gardiner, another victim of the Elm Park riot, died this morning. The Orangemen have determined to have another picnic in August, and will call on the authorities to protect them.

ELECTED CHIEF ENGINEER.

Gen. George B. McClellan was to-day elected Chief Engineer of the Department of Docks and will immediately enter on his duty.

Fearful Storm at Montreal, Canada.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTREAL, July 14.—One of the most fearful storms that ever visited this country, swept over Montreal last evening. It actually leveled everything in its way. A large number of buildings were utterly destroyed and hundreds severely damaged. No loss of life, however, is yet reported. Two large freight sheds of the Grand Trunk Railway were prostrated. The loss in them alone is immense. All telegraphic communication with the city is stopped. There are rumors of still greater damage at other points.

Fifty Dollars Reward!

The above reward will be paid by the Park Commission of the City of Allegheny, for the apprehension and conviction of any of the persons found guilty of despoiling the Park Grounds on the morning of July 3d. A number of the plants, flowers and trees were uprooted, in addition to a violation of the rules of the Park in other respects, and the Commission are determined to spare no expense in bringing the offenders to justice and punishing them to the furthest extent of the law. By order of the Park Commission.
jul4 J. R. OXLEY, Secretary.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Penn Avenue Extension.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received until 3 o'clock P. M. of MONDAY, the 26th inst., for the Grading and Curbing of all that part of Penn avenue, lying between Butler and Forty-fifth streets, Pittsburgh.
The Curb stone must be of Freeport or Baden stone, and not less than 3 feet in length each, and in other respects comply with the requirements of the city ordinances relative thereto.
Plans showing the amount and extent of the work to be done, will be found at the office of the City Engineer, to whose care all proposals directed to the Board of Commissioners may be sent.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1870.

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 113¾@113⅞.

IT IS generally conceded by both Democratic and Republican journals that Illinois has now the best Constitution of any of the States of the Union.

EX-PRESIDENT JOHNSON is engaged in writing "a constitutional vindication of my policy." We do not know but the revival of the Third Party here has had something to do in encouraging the great flag distributor to again come up to the surface.

FROM present indications there will be a heavy vote out at the Republican primary meetings on the 27th proximo. Notwithstanding the slight bolt, the party hereabouts remains sufficiently strong and united to successfully fight both the Democratic and the new party.

THIS DAY at noon Congress will adjourn and the country will breathe easier. But little business was transacted during the long session and an immense number of public and private bills were left untouched. The old complaint too much talk and too little work can be truthfully made against the expiring Congress. Until the members of the National Assembly learn that speech making is not the only work expected to be performed by them while in Washington, we can hardly hope for a more expeditious transaction of business demanding attention.

THE TELEGRAMS by the cable were so contradictory yesterday that we are hardly able to reflect the war appearances in Europe. It is not improbable that Prussia will in turn assume the aggressive towards France and demand satisfaction for the wanton insult received. Whether war comes or comes not out of the present complication, it is inevitable between the two great powers aroused into anger. The near future will develop new causes for war, and a great struggle may safely be anticipated between the French and Prussians for the "balance of power," in which all the great European powers may ultimately become involved.

IT IS A SIGNIFICANT POLITICAL FACT that none of the newly enfranchised colored citizens of the county have in any wise awarded sympathy or co-operation to the new third party movement. Not one of them was known to attend the primary meetings of the bolters, and the one elected as delegate, without his consent, to the July Convention, came out promptly in a card and in no uncertain way denounced the disorganizers, and asserted his allegiance to the great party that had lifted his race out of bondage and clothed them with the full rights of citizenship. The colored people will vote solidly with the Republican party, and a more grateful course on their part could not be desired.

THE CASE OF PAUL SCHOEPPE, the Carlisle murderer, again excites public attention. His friends have tried so hard to save his life that it would seem a great pity after all their exertions that the miserable man should have to lay down his life on the gallows. The Governor can well afford to use clemency in the case. The prisoner must have undergone terrible torture through the long year which his life has been hanging on a thread, and that seems to be punishment enough for him if he be guilty, and there are many who yet believe him innocent of the dark crime of which convicted and sentenced to death. In leaning to the side of Mercy, Gov. Geary will win the approval of all the charitable people of the State, and Justice will not suffer.

THE ORGAN of the disorganizers said yesterday that Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., "By his able, eloquent, consistent, uncompromising advocacy of the principles of the party—by fighting her battles in season and out of season—had justly earned the title of 'champion of the Republican party,' and was favorably known and esteemed all over the State, and far beyond the limits of the State."

Just so. Mr. Marshall is an uncompromising and "consistent" advocate of "the principles of the party." He is "favorably known far beyond the limits of the State as the champion of the Republican party." But he is opposed to the course of the bolters and their organ in their attempt to disorganize the party. He has no fellowship with them and will have none. If he advocates the principles of the party and is opposed to the new organization, pray what principles does it advocate? Certainly not those of Republicanism? Did Mr. Marshall, with the view of promoting the interests of the party, not appoint the present Chairman of the Executive Committee, whom the organ of the independent organization vilifies every day? If he is "consistent," what are the disorganizers?

THE FUNDING BILL.

The Bill which provides for funding the National debt at a low rate of interest has passed both Houses of Congress, and now awaits the signature of the President, which will no doubt be appended at once, as it is in substantially the same terms as those recommended by the Executive and Secretary Boutwell.

If the object of the bill shall be attained it will not only greatly diminish the annual expenditure of the government, but also be the means of introducing a large amount of foreign capital into the country. And we see no reason why it should not be a success. Vast sums of money are lying constantly idle in European countries, and their possessors are looking for some safe and permanent security in which to invest them. Any loan which may be thrown on the money market in London will be taken up in a few days, if capitalists are only satisfied that the security is good, and there will be no drawback in the fulfillment of the stipulations of the contract. Want of sufficient explicitness in acts creating loans, and the consequent legislative "tinkering" and bickering in relation to them have seriously affected our credit abroad. European capitalists dread the lack of stability which seems to characterise us in relation to our contracts, which are construed differently by different parties and legislatures. The "watering" and consequent depreciation of the value of stocks of corporations in this country has produced a feeling of distrust in the minds of foreigners of capital, which makes them chary in investing in American securities. Besides, imposition and deception have frequently been practised on many lenders abroad, by agents of corporations who cared more for their personal interests than the enhancement of our credit or reputation of the country. But notwithstanding all this, we do not apprehend any serious difficulty or delay in negotiating with foreign capitalists bonds for one thousand five hundred millions of dollars at the rates of interest specified in the act of Congress which has just been passed, inasmuch as they are a government security and its faith is pledged for their redemption.

Another matter will render the bonds popular abroad. Ever since the close of the war, our Government has shown a determined disposition to liquidate the public debt at as early a period as possible, and by steadily and largely reducing it from month to month, since the present administration came into power, has demonstrated her ability to do so. Although sinking funds have been established by some of the governments of the Old World at different periods in their history, they have never been productive of great results. Ours is almost the only Government that has shown a determination to rid itself of a large public debt.

Moreover, our country is comparatively in its infancy. It has a brilliant future in prospect. Its resources have only begun to be developed. It is constantly increasing in wealth, population and power, and and of its ability to cancel its obligations no one who informs himself as to its manufactures, its agricultural and mineral resources, its untiring industry and progressive development can entertain the slightest doubt.

The funding of our public debt, in the manner proposed, will be an international benefit. It will afford an outlet for the vast unemployed capital of Europe, and largely increase our own. It will be a profitable and permanent security for the investment of the capital with which countries in the eastern hemisphere are glutted, and will at the same time enable us to develop more rapidly and extensively the great resources of the country.

The bill as passed, and a synopsis of which was published in our telegraphic columns yesterday, provides for the issue of three separate classes of bonds, viz: two hundred millions, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum; three hundred millions, at four and a half per cent., and one thousand millions, at four per cent., these having a period to run of ten, fifteen and thirty years, respectively. Thus it will be seen that the reduction in interest will amount to many millions of dollars annually.

THE SITUATION.

The "organ of the new party" treated its readers yesterday to a very refreshing history of the political situation in Allegheny county, in the course of which it charged the legislative delegation to Harrisburg with selling out the interests of the party for a mere "mess of pottage," and "bartering away the claims of the county" to a United States Senator. If this charge were based upon fact, it might have some weight, but those who have the best means of knowing declare there is not a word of truth in it. It is well known that there were two candidates in this county for United States Senator, both of whom were held in high esteem by their respective friends. Much bitterness was manifested privately in the contest, which never appeared upon the surface. As soon as the Legislature assembled, the scene of conflict was transferred from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg. The Allegheny county delegation held a meeting in the room of one of the Senators, and at the suggestion of one of the candidates a secret ballot was had for the purpose of testing which had the greatest strength. The gentleman who suggested this course declared that if it did not appear after the vote was taken that he had a majority in his favor he would retire from the field. Mr. Graham was opposed to a secret ballot, and voted an open ticket, declaring that he would vote for Mr. Marshall as long as his name was mentioned in connection with the United States Senatorship. Major Morgan also declared, publicly, his preference for Mr. Marshall, while Col. Errett voted for Mr. Moorhead. For whom the individual votes of the other members of the delegation were cast, no one knows, we believe, till this day, except that that two of them must have voted for Mr. Marshall, and three for Mr. Moorhead, for when the ballots were counted it was found that the delegation were equally divided between the two candidates. As soon as the result was known, Mr. Moorhead retired from the contest, and the next morning Mr. Marshall withdrew his name. There was neither barter nor sale here. On the contrary, some of the friends of the respective candidates gave the most positive assurance that they would vote for no others as long as their names were before the Legislature. This showed there was no ignoring the claims of Allegheny county to the United States Senatorship. When the candidates withdrew their names the delegation, of course, could not vote for them. Those who now complain of "barter and sale" evinced the most determined purpose to defeat Mr. Marshall, and Senator Graham was charged with being too earnest for his election.

But we desire to put the following question to the editor of the Commercial, who asserts that the Allegheny county delegation sold out Western Pennsylvania for a "mess of pottage." Did you not say to a member of the legislature that as Mr. Moorhead had developed no strength in the contest, you were in favor of John Scott of Huntingdon? We ask a plain Yes, or No, to this question. If an answer is not given, there are gentlemen of integrity who will feel themselves called upon to state the facts. By whom then were the claims of Allegheny county ignored? By the editor of the Commercial, who declared he preferred Mr. Scott to Mr. Marshall. And this greatly astonishes us, because Mr. Scott was well known to be the choice of Senator Cameron! We believe things are not as bad as they are represented to be. Senator Cameron can make an honest and judicious choice.

We wish then, our readers to mark this fact, that the editor of the Commercial preferred Mr. Scott to Mr. Marshall, who is a citizen of Allegheny county! although he said yesterday, that 26,000 voters would have "rejoiced" in his election to the office of United States Senator. Our editor and the people are evidently on different sides.

The same paper charges that there was a conspiracy "last year to defraud Governor Geary out of the re-nomination, against the wishes of nine-tenths of the party." We ask a decided answer to the following questions: Did the editor of the Commercial not make a personal appeal to several persons from this county who were at the Philadelphia Convention to use their influence to secure the nomination of Hon. J. D. Coleman, of Lebanon, in order to defeat Gen. Geary? Did he not go to Philadelphia and endeavor by his personal influence to defeat Governor Geary? There are several gentlemen ready to prove that he did these very things. It is plain then that the Commercial claims to be only one-tenth of the people, as nine-tenths were for Mr. Geary's re-nomination, and it was opposed to it. Let it be remembered that Mr. Coleman is a strong personal friend of General Cameron. Yet, he was preferred by the organ of the bolters to Governor Geary. Another good omen.

The next charge is that the majority of the Republican party has dwindled down from eleven thousand in 1868 to four thousand in 1869, and that "our candidate for Commissioner was beaten." Why this great falling off? Through whose agency was our candidate for Commissioner beaten? There are many good meaning and honest people who hesitate not to assert that the Commercial has demoralized, to some extent, the Republican party by its continual abuse of its members and everlasting fault finding. The very men who last year by their divisive course defeated our candidate for Commissioner, have organized an independent party with the view, if possible, of defeating the whole ticket this fall, and electing Democrats to every position. If the people are prepared for such a result, we will bow to their will, although we would sadly deplore the consequences. We are convinced, however, that there is no danger.

This is the real situation of affairs. We challenge the bolters and their organ to disprove it.

REPUDIATED BY ITS OWN NOMINEES.

The bolter's organ has been endeavoring to deceive its readers by assuring them that the work of disintegration was making the most "gratifying progress" throughout the county. These statements, made from day to day, have only filled the minds of those who know better with disgust and contempt for those who have the barefacedness to make them. The letters which inspire the organ of disruption with so much hope, are believed, very generally, to be manufactured in its own office, although conveniently dated at some "remote" township in the county. Some of these letters are said to be from persons who it is well known have no sympathy whatever with the organization of a new party, but on the contrary are laboring with all their might to defeat its objects. Love letters may be written to order, but the Republicans of Allegheny county are too far beyond the outer circle of ignorance to be imposed upon by squibs manufactured for the express purpose of creating discontent in their ranks. The game will not work, and the sooner it is abandoned the better for the honor of those concerned. The people do not want a new party, and will resist all attempts made to frame one by every fair and possible means.

The letter of declinature from Hon. D. N. White, one of the nominees of the bolters' on the Assembly ticket, which we publish this morning, manifests anything but "gratifying progress" in the work of disorganization. Mr. White is well known, far beyond the limits of the State of Pennsylvania, as an honest and upright citizen, devoted to the interests of the country and the unity and integrity of the Republican party, and as always having been opposed to disorganization. The bold and fearless stand which he took against Know Nothingism, when he was Editor and Proprietor of the GAZETTE, has endeared him to many who, at the time of that insane moment, contended fiercely against him. But knowing the dangers with which disorganization was fraught, at a great pecuniary sacrifice, he boldly resisted the attempts that were made by designing and unprincipled politicians to proscribe citizens of foreign birth. Those who were his strongest opponents then are now fully convinced that he was right.

Lapse of years has produced no change in him. His manly and patriotic letter shows that he is as much opposed to disorganization now, as he was when Know-Nothingism was rampant. He not only refuses to accept the nomination tendered him by the bolters, but declares that the movement is ill advised and pregnant with danger, and that therefore he can have no sympathy with it.

It is a source of felicitation to us that a man of Mr. White's experience, profound wisdom and solid judgment, as well as unsullied character and sterling honesty, should endorse, as he does in his letter of declinature this morning, every sentiment that the GAZETTE has uttered in regard to the organization of a new party, and the motives which prompted it. His old Whig friends in the county, whose name is legion, will rejoice with all their hearts when they read his noble letter, and find that no flattering political bait can tempt him to join the ranks of disorganization, and that removed as he has been for many years from the maelstrom of politics, he can sit down in his peaceful rural home and deliberately pen an endorsement of the teachings of a journal from which he long since voluntarily severed himself, and which owes to him much of its present prestige and power.

We have no fear of the result. Mr. White's letter, published over his own signature, proves that the bolters are despised by the very men upon whose force of character and high reputation they hoped to ride into power and secure for themselves the spoils of office. Despised and rejected as they are by their own nominees and the people, the disorganizers are in the last throes of political death, and are using every means in their power to induce the Republican party to accept of their nominations, that they may not be buried in a grave so deep that they will never know a resurrection.

"Charles Boehler, July 10"---Startling Realization of an Ominous Dream.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial.]

The printers in the German newspaper offices are discussing with bated breath and startled faces, a peculiar circumstance well calculated to send a nervous thrill through a superstitious body. It is all about "only a dream," but there is a marvelous coincidence in the case. Charles Boehler, the German printer, who, in a fit of delirium tremens, killed himself by jumping from a third story window, was buried yesterday, July 10, his funeral being largely attended. Some three years ago this unfortunate man was working at the case, side by side with his intimate friend, Chris. Stieler, at the Volksblatt office. One noon Stieler came into the composing room, having on his face an unusually serious expression. Asked as to the cause, he gathered a group around him from among the printers, and as they sat in a neighboring saloon over their beer, he described to them how, in his sleep, from which he had but recently awakened, he had seen, slowly drawn before him by black-plumed white horses, a somber hearse, containing a full-length coffin, on which, in large letters, was inscribed "Charles Boehler, July 10."

This dream, no more singular than many that every reader of this has had, but fearfully ominous to a superstitious mind, did not have much effect at that time on many of those who heard it. It was not forgotten, however, for on the 10th of July, last year, Boehler was congratulated by his friends who knew of the dream on the fact of being alive and in good health. Boehler remarked: "Well, I've got another year to live yet." He had only one year, however, for, according to the dream, he was buried on July 10th.

It is thought by some that Boehler brooded over this dream, and as the fatal day slowly and swiftly approached, and that he was superstitious enough to be thrown into an excitement from which he sought refuge in liquor. However that may be, liquor brought him to his grave on the day of his dream.

AN agrieved gentleman writes as follows to the Cleveland Leader:

"Messrs. Editors: In this morning's issue of the Leader there is a notice of the arrest of Wm. Lloyd for housebreaking, etc. The facts in the case are as follows: There was some misunderstanding between Mr. Lloyd and his wife, and she applied for a divorce, since which she has been living with a neighbor On Saturday his son, who was taking care of the place, came to Cleveland with a load of produce, and in his absence the wife broke into the house and carried away all the furniture that she could and on Sunday Mr. Lloyd went and took them from her and brought them home again. Whoever gave you the information you got misinformed.

CARD FROM D. N. WHITE, ESQ.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE GAZETTE:

Gentlemen—A correspondent in your paper this morning reminds me of a duty which I owe to the Republican party, and which I have been contemplating ever since the proceedings of the Independent Republican Convention reached me, but which I have delayed from a repugnance to do anything to increase the unhappy dissention prevailing in the Republican ranks.

With all due respect to the gentlemen who signed the call which originated the July Convention, which did me the honor to select me as one of their candidates for the Legislature, I do not and cannot approve of their undertaking, and had I been aware that my name would be presented to the Convention, I should have taken prompt measures to have withdrawn it—not because I do not respect the gentlemen engaged in the movement, believing that most of the signers to the call were actuated by proper motives—not because I do not consider it an honor to have the approbation of so respectable a body of constituents—but because I regard the movement as unnecessary, unwise, and fraught with danger to the best interests of the party.

If there are evils in the interior workings of the party, and I do not deny them, although I think they have been exaggerated, they can be corrected within the party. To deny this would be to give up the whole system of free suffrage, and to acknowledge the government by the people a failure. If every time we discover what we consider unfairness or imagine we have found corruption in primary meetings and conventions, we must take the position of independent movements for the purification of the party, how long will it be before the party itself will become an army of stragglers, without cohesion, without power, a mere rope of sand, a thing of contempt?

Evils are inseparable from the management of all institutions controlled by imperfect men. The wit of man never has and never can contrive a system free from the attacks of designing men. Our governments, our legislatures, our municipalities, and even our churches, are suffering to a greater or less degree from the very evils charged upon the machinery for nominating candidates for office. And what, pray, is to protect the reform movements from the very evils complained of as incident to the regular nominations?

All parties, to be efficient, must have their accredited authorities, duly and legally appointed in accordance with established usages. The Republican party in this county, which has had such a brilliant history, has its regular, legal organization, which has come down from the first Convention held to organize the party. Every Republican owes a fealty to the party so organized, and when a Convention has been thus legally called, it is his duty and his privilege to attend the primary meetings, and there exert himself for the selection of honest and judicious men to represent him in the approaching Convention. The correction of all evils is thus always in the hands of the members of the party, and if they are not corrected, it is not the fault of the organization, but of the people themselves in their primary capacity. If it cannot be done in this way, I know no other remedy. Independent movements will not do it, because to be successful they must command the support of the bulk of the same party which was so corrupt as to require so revolutionary a movement, and a change of name will not make men any better.

Times arise in the history of the Republic when it becomes the duty of the people to to discard old party principles and ties, and to enter into new combinations with new and vigorous principles. It was thus that the Republican party was founded on the ruins of the old Whig party, and the old Jackson party, and with a vigor, and power, and earnestness, never excelled in this or any other country, arose suddenly to the control of the National Government. Since that time, its history, grand, wonderful, glorious, is the history of our country. It will stand out on the pages of the future historian as marking the proudest era of our national life. It has raised our country to the highest pinnacle of greatness in the eyes of all nations. It has stricken the shackles from four millions of manacled hands. It has made union of the States possible, by making it possible for every citizen to go everywhere, uttering his thoughts freely on every subject. This party to-day is in the vigor of its manhood. It has control of nearly all of our States, as well as our National Government. It has still a great work to do to conserve its vast achievements, and cannot lay down the sceptre of its power without ruin to the best interests of the country.

The Republican party of Allegheny county has a history to be proud of. It was the first organized Republican party in the State, if not in the nation. The first Republican State Convention was held in Pittsburgh, under its auspices, as well as the first National Republican Convention. It has stood by the country and the government in the darkest hours. It has rolled up vast majorities for the Republican faith and the Republican candidates, time and again, carrying cheer to fainting hearts, and arousing the courage of the despondents. With such a cause and such a history shall we now fritter away our strength for real or imaginary evils in our mode of nominations, and by our divisions trail our long victorious flag at the feet of modern Democracy? For one I cannot do it. Already are our political foes chuckling over our folly, and are assuring themselves of certain victory next fall. In my candid opinion, the only hope of defeating their expectations is for Republicans to stand by their old regular, legal organization, to send good men to represent them in the August Convention, and thus securing a good ticket, assure themselves of an old-fashioned victory.

Having thus given some of the reasons why I cannot unite in the so-called reform movement, I take this opportunity to re-announce to the Republicans of this county that my partial friends will again present my name for nomination to the Legislature at the ensuing August Convention.

My nomination for the Legislature last year was made without any solicitation on my part. During the late session of the Legislature I endeavored honestly to do my duty to the best of my ability, giving my entire time during the session to its labors. I would be gratified to know that my fellow-citizens approved of my course, and on this ground mainly would a nomination and election have any charms for me.

D. N. WHITE.

SEWICKLEY, July 12, 1870.

HON. ANDREW STEWART, of Pennsylvania, is not the oldest living Congressman. Hon. Ezekiel Bacon, of New York, now 94 years of age, was elected to Congress from the Berkshire District, in Massachusetts, in 1807, and sat for three successive terms. It is consequently sixty-three years since he was first elected to Congress. His first vote was given in 1800, for Mr. Jefferson, and his last in 1864, for Mr. Lincoln. He has been for many years the oldest living graduate of Yale College.

THE three railroads on the shore of Lake Michigan, between Manistee and New Buffalo are to be consolidated under the name of the Chicago and Michigan Lake Shore Company.

"ICH BIN DEIN."

[The following ingenious production, written in five different languages, viz., English, Latin, Greek, French and German, is clipped from an exchange.]

In tempus old a hero lived,
Qui loved puellas deux;
He no pouvait pas quite to say
Which one amabat mieux.

Dit-il lui-même, un beau matin,
"Non possum both avoir,
Sed si address Amanda Ann,
Then Kate and I have war.

"Amanda habet argent coin,
Sed Kate has aureas curls;
Et both sunt very agathæ,
Et quite formosæ girls."

Enfin, the youthful anthropos,
Philoun the duo maids,
Resolved proponere ad Kate
Devant cet evening's shades.

Procedens then to Kate's domo,
Il trouve Amanda there;
Kai quite forgets his late resolves,
Both sunt so goodly fair.

Sed smiling on the new tapis,
Between puellas twain,
Coepit to tell his flame to Kate,
Dans un poetique strain.

Mais, glancing ever et anon
At fair Amanda's eyes,
Illæ non possunt dicere
Pro which he meant his sighs.

Each virgo heard the demi vow,
With cheeks as rouge as wine;
And off'ring each a milk-white hand
Both whispered, "Ich bin dein."

BUILD UP THE SYSTEM.

Strength evaporates fast at this season. This is especially the case with all who live by the sweat of their brow. From every pore of the sieve-like skin a moisture exudes which contains the elements of vitality. Thereby the blood is impoverished, the nerves relaxed, the muscles weakened, the digestion impaired, the bowels disturbed, and the animal spirits depressed. The constant drain that produces these effects cannot be arrested, because it is due to the heat of the atmosphere; but the loss of the life-sustaining elements can be supplied by extra invigoration. Now, therefore, is the time to resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most powerful and healthful of all vegetable tonics. Long experience has proved that nothing else will efficiently sustain and regulate the system when wilting down under the double pressure of excessive heat, and constant physical or mental labor. All persons who have been tempted to try the local "tonics" (so-called) which have been started by sordid speculators in almost every town and village, with a view of "turning a penny" by the credulity of the unwary, know this to their cost. It is a wise maxim that says "hold fast to that which is good." Of the forty millions of people in the United States, probably one-fifth have tested the restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters and know it to be a specific for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous weakness, general debility, constipation, fever and ague, and want of appetite; that any of these should be persuaded to experiment with the worthless nostrums, recommended by unscrupulous and ignorant empirics seems almost incredible.

LOAN
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.
In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.
When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.
It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.
It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.
The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000.)
The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of Investors and Capitalists.
Who desire to make their investments with the most satisfactory assurance of POSITIVE AND UNDOUBTED SECURITY.
The Bonds are in denominations of

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]
NEW YORK, July 14, 1870.

There was to-day a renewal of excitement in the gold market upon cable dispatches representing an unsettled feeling in the foreign markets. Dispatches are contradictory, one saying Napoleon declared that for the present war is postponed, and another that the diplomatic relations between France and Prussia were terminated at the instance of Prussia, the French Minister having received passports. A later dispatch pronounces this a canard. In the gold room, however, the prevailing opinion is there will be war, formed on private advices received by the foreign bankers. Before the formal opening, sales were between 112⅜@112⅝; the first recorded transaction was at 112⅝, since which there has been an advance on large and excited dealings to 113¾, and a decline to 113¼; then the market advanced to 113⅞ on the receipt of cable dispatches giving the quotations of '62's at 86 in London, and saying Rentes were down to 67⅜f; these quotations, accompanied with a report that the French Minister had withdrawn from Berlin because the King refused to accede to the demand of Napoleon that Prussia should not interfere in the settlement of the Spanish Throne. Successive dispatches from Washington were received, saying that the Prussian Minister there received instructions from his government to ask whether the United States would protect German Mail Steamers plying between this country and German ports. The late telegrams were that the French Minister thought that convocation of German Parliament was imminent, and that Secretary Fish at Washington thought war inveitable. These had a tendency to stiffen gold, but still later a better feeling was reported in London, and 5-20 bonds were quoted all the way from 87¾ to 83⅜. On these quotations German bankers were sellers of gold, and the price dropped to 113⅜ at the close. Telegrams from Paris quoted French Rentes at 67f. 25c., the lowest point of the day. This started a war feeling once more, and the price rallied to 113¾@113⅞, at which it closed. Carrying rates 3@5½. Clearances $70,000,000. Exports $335,000.

Money easy at 4@5 per cent. Sterling quiet and steady at 9¾@10. Governments unsettled by European telegrams, but the market closed strong though dull. Coupons of '81, 14⅜@15; '62, 10¾@10⅞; '64, 10⅛@10¼; '65, 10⅜@10⅝; do new, 9⅜@9½; '67, 9½@9⅝; '68, 9⅝@9¾; 10-40s, 7⅜@8; currency, 11⅛@14⅜. The Treasury bought $2,000,000 at 108 75-100@108 94 4-100.

State bonds quiet, steady. Missouris 91⅛, old Tennessees 66⅛, new do 66, old North Carolinas 52, new do 32¾.

Pacific railroads heavy and lower. Stock market heavy and unsettled at the close, when the lowest figures of the day were made. The European war excitement, in connection with the railroad war here and the low rates of fare and freight to the west, tend to depress prices. The market was led on the downward turn by the Rock Island and Wabash, which stocks declined about two per cent., while the balance of the market was off 1 per cent. Lake Shore has been in active borrowing demand, and has lent flat to 1-16 per cent. for borrowing.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, July 14, 1870.

The markets, in a general way, continue dull and there is not much prospect of any immediate improvement. The demand for most of the leading articles continues dull and mainly local, while in regard to values there are no important changes. Country people are busily engaged in harvesting, and we need not look for much country trade until the grain crop has been safely housed.

ASHES—Unchanged; common soda ash, 4; refined, 4½; Pearls 9@9½; Pots 7¾.

APPLES—In steady demand and limited supply; sales reported at $5@6 per bbl for good to choice, and $4 for common.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged; sales of good packed, suitable for shipping, at 16@17c, and choice may be quoted at 20.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

BEANS—Dull; $1.50@1.75 per bush.

BROOM CORN—Is dull, 12@13 cts.

CHICKENS—Sale of live chickens by the coop, at 60@75 cts per pair, according to size and condition.

CHEESE—The demand is rather better, and we can report regular sales at 13@14, for Ohio, the outside figure for Goshen. Sweitzer, 18@19 cts.

CARBON OIL—Is quiet and unchanged; 23½@24c for standard brands.

CORNMEAL—95@$1 per bushel.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet and unchanged—stock pretty well reduced. Apples 4½@6c. Peaches 9@9c for quarters, and 7@8c for halves.

EGGS—Continue rather dull and with increased arrivals, prices are weak, though unchanged and 23cts may still be regarded as the ruling quotation.

FLOUR—Is quiet and unchanged. We continue to quote western flours, in store, at $6½ for good, either winter or spring, and $6¾ for choice Wisconsin or Minnesota springs. Fancy St. Louis brands $7¾@8, and the demand very light, as fancy flours are, to a common phrase, nearly played out in this market. We are disposed to suspect sometimes that about the only difference between fancy and the other flour, is the fancy brand on the head of the barrel, but there are people who pay a dollar or two per bbl more when there is not perhaps 25 cts difference in the quality of the flour.

GRAIN—There is a moderate milling demand for wheat and the mills are taking all that offers at quotations, $1.15@1.22 for red and $1.30@1.35 for white. Oats—market more active and stronger, occasioned by orders from the East; we can report sales of several car loads, to go to Philadelphia, at 53c and one car to go to New York, at 54c, all, of course, delivered free on board, which costs, about a cent per bushel. Corn is quiet and unchanged; sale of one car at 85c, and it was subsequently sold at 88c which was an outside figure. Rye is dull and unchanged at 80@85c; one car load at the outside figure. No movement in barley.

GROCERIES—There is a continued steady demand for sugars and prices are firm though unchanged. Holders are gaining confidence with the war rumors from Europe, as it was thought that in the event of a rupture between the leading powers now threatening each other, the Cuban question may assume such a form as to temporally shut off supplies. Coffees quiet. Syrups dull though they are always dull in hot weather.

HAY—The market is better, as the arrivals have fallen off considerably, and prices are a shade higher. We now quote new at $10@14, and old at $15@20, according to quality and condition.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

HUSKS Corn husks, 3@3¼ cts.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2,25 per bbl, and eastern at $1.75.

LARD OIL—Extra No. 1 is quoted at $1.23@1.25 and No. 2 at 80.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued active demand for hams, and not much inquiry for sides or shoulders. Shoulders at 13¾@14 for plain, and 15¾@16 for Sugar Cured: Sides 16⅜@16¾ for Ribbed Sides; 17 for Short Ribbed, and 17½ for Clear; Sugar Cured Hams 23@25½; Breakfast Bacon, 19. Dried Beef, 25½@26 and very scarce. Lard 17 in tcs, and 18@18½ in kegs and buckets. Mess Pork $31.

PEANUTS—Dull. Tennessee, 8@9 cts.

POTATOES—Sales of new crop at $4,00@4,50 per bbl, and old at 55@60 per bushel.

SEEDS—No movement in Clover or Timothy Seeds. Flaxseed is still quoted at $2.25, though there is not much inquiry for it. Buckwheat quoted at $1@1,25 per bushel.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, July 14, 1870.

The oil market continues dull and unsettled, affected keenly as it is by the war rumors, and at present the future course of the trade looks very foggy. In the event of a foreign war, the general impression seems to be that the foreign demand for oil would be very materially reduced, and this, together with the largely increased production, is not without its effect and very naturally tends to make operators bearish. Notwithstanding war has not yet been declared, and probably will not be, yet these rumors of war are calculated to have a very depressing effect on the trade, unsettling the market, present as well as prospective, from the effects of which, even granting there will be no war, it will require some time to recover. Viewed in any aspect, it is very unfortunate, particularly so at this season of the year, but there is no help for it.

CRUDE.

The market is quiet and without quotable change as compared with yesterday. Spot or seller July, 11⅛ to 11¼ bid and asked; seller August 11⅜@11½; September, 12; October or November, 12⅛.

REFINED.

Dull and unsettled. Sale 1,000 each August and September at 27¾; and 1,000 each September and October at 27¾; July or August, 27¾; September 27⅞; October to December, 27¾; buyer all year, 28@28¼. There were quite a number of rumors afloat this afternoon, among others one that all orders from Antwerp had been withdrawn.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

EAST LIBERTY STOCK YARDS,
THURSDAY, July 14, 1870.

CATTLE.

The arrivals of cattle this week were again large, unusually so, as were also the sales, footing up in the aggregate since the date of our last report (this day week) over twenty-five hundred head. This is the largest week's business we have had to report for several months, and we chronicle the fact with considerable satisfaction, indicating, as it does, that the trade here is not played out as some believed about three months ago. The fact that Alexander is shipping by another route has not injured trade here that we can discover, and while we do not now say that his action in this matter had anything to do with it, business has been better, considerably better, since than it was before. The Pennsylvenia Railroad Company, as well as the owners of the yards, may have lost something by the change, but we do not think that it has injured stock dealers in the least. Alexander never put any of his cattle on the market here; he merely made it a resting place to feed and water.

As already intimated, the market has been active this week, the operations being unusually heavy, but to-day prices were fully ¼ lower than during Tuesday and Wednesday. This was owing to the fact that the eastern men had bought all they wanted, and after they had all been supplied, there was a considerable number unsold, and consequently, to effect sales, holders were obliged to make concessions or ship on further east on their own account, which they were not disposed to do. Prime shipping cattle sold at 8@8¾, extra at 8¾@8¾—one drove of fancy brought 9cts. Stock cattle sold firm at 4@6cts, as to quality and condition.

SHEEP.

The sheep market has only been fair this week, nothing to brag about. The animals were pretty nearly up to the usual standard, but they were mainly of the lower grades,—the supply of this kind was somewhat in excess of the demand, while of prime fat sheep there were not enough, and the latter kind consequently sold quicker, and at relatively better prices than the former, say 5¼@5¾c, and extra would probably have brought 6c. There is some inquiry for stock sheep and but very little offering.

HOGS.

The market has been moderately active this week, and the most important feature we have to notice is the fact that there is less difference being made between common and good hogs, and the arrivals of the latter are larger than of the former. Philadelphia hogs may be quoted at 9¼@9¾c and Yorkers at 9@9¼c.

RIVER NEWS.

The river rose considerably at this point yesterday, and last evening the Monongahela marks indicated 4 feet 6 inches. Weather unsettled and oppressively hot, with strong indications, at times, of rain.

The Belle, from Geneva, arrived with an excellent freight list, and departed as usual. She is much lighter since she came off the dock, and, consequently, in much better condition for business.

The new steamer Carrie Converse is announced to depart for New Orleans on Saturday.

Capt. M. A. Cox has another new boat under contract for the Arkansas river trade.

The Mollie Moore, Capt. G. D. Moore's new boat, is rapidly approaching completion.

Capt. Ab. Shaw, of the Arkansas, is here on a visit after an absence of several months.

The Granite State, Capt. Wash Kerr, is the regular packet for Portsmouth and Cincinnati to-day, leaving promptly at 4 P.M. She is in all respects one of the best boats that comes to this port, and being of light draft, can take a large amount of freight on the present water. Mr. Johnston still retains charge of the office.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial: A party named Uriah McCloud, residing in Portsmouth, Ohio, is continually making complaint against steamers carrying combustible material. He has thus far had the commanders of the Annie Laurie, Spray, R. R. Hudson and Major Anderson indicted in the U. S. Court, but in each case has failed to make his cause of complaint good. Captain Muhleman, of the Anderson, was acquitted of the charge yesterday. The informer is awarded one half the penalty imposed, but in the case of McCloud, as it don't pay, he will soon play out.

—Mr. T. S. Kunkle, a painter in New Albany, on Lower Second street, is gilding a fine pair of horns to be presented to the steamer R. E. Lee, with an inscription on them giving a history of the horns, which is, that they were originally awarded to the J. M. White for her fast trip from New Orleans to Cairo, and subsequently to the A. L. Shotwell; and now the Lee, having beat all her predecessors, inherits the horns.

—The St. Paul Press says: "The bill for the improvement of the Fox and Wisconsin rivers, which has been before Congress for some time past, passed the House by a vote of 109 to 57. The bill also passed the Senate a few days ago, and the great point is now settled that the improvement is to be made at the expense of the Government.

—The question of a mail on the Tennessee River, between Loudon and down the river, is still unsettled. There being some informality in the contract awarded the Packet Company, the Postoffice Department has determined to advertise for new proposals.

—The Magenta is laid up at Paducah, where she will undergo a thorough overhauling and be put in complete order for the cotton trade this coming season between Memphis and New Orleans.

—The Lotus No. 2 has been chartered by Capt. Van Gunnison to take the place of the Emma No. 2, in Alabama River, while the latter is undergoing repairs.

—The Arkansas River had 27 inches to Pine Bluff, 23 to Little Rock, and 14 to Fort Smith on Tuesday.

—The Osage was purchased at Memphis on Wednesday, by the Little Rock Railroad Co., for $5,500.

—The Carrie V. Kountz was moved about twelve yards towards the river when the darky force quit her.

—The Collier has 1,500 bbls cement engaged at Louisville.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ DOCTOR WHITTIER CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES. That numerous class of cases resulting from self-abuse, producing unmanliness, nervous debility, irritability, eruptions, seminal emissions, and finally impotency permanently cured. Persons afflicted with delicate, intricate and long standing constitutional complaints are politely invited to call for consultation, which costs nothing. Experience, the best of teachers, has enabled him to perfect remedies at once efficient, safe, permanent, and which in most cases can be used without hindrance to business. Medicines prepared in the establishment, which embraces office, reception and waiting rooms; also boarding and sleeping apartments for patients requiring daily personal attention, and vapor and chemical baths, thus concentrating the famed mineral springs. No matter who have failed, state your case. Read what he says in his pamphlet of fifty pages, sent to any address for two stamps in sealed envelope. Thousands of cases treated annually, at office and all over the country. Consultation free, personally or by mail. Office No. 9 Wylie street, (near Court House) Pittsburgh, Pa. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Pamphlet sent to any address for TWO STAMPS.

These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund. The convertibility privilege attached to these bonds cannot fail to cause them at no distant day to command a market price considerably above par.
The greater part of the road is already completed and shows large earnings, and the balance of the work is rapidly progressing.
The present advanced condition and large earnings of the road warrant us in unhesitatingly recommending these bonds to investors, as, in every respect, an undoubted security.
U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, only return five per cent. interest, while these pay eight and one-quarter per cent. in Gold, and we regard the security equally good.
The Company reserve the right, without notice, to advance the price.

Work has been commenced on the extension of the Birmingham Passenger Railway.

Another Escape.—John McClinton, committed to the Work House by Mayor Callow, a few days since, escaped from that institution yesterday.

Shed Burned.—The alarm of fire last evening about six o'clock from box 37 was occasioned by the burning of a coal shed on Try street. Damage immaterial.

Held for Trial.—Julius Kramer, who was charged with assault and battery, on oath of James Jamison, of the Twenty-Second ward, was after a hearing, yesterday, held to bail for his appearance at court.

Taken to the House of Refuge.—Patrick Duffy, a boy about ten years of age, was sent to the House of Refuge yesterday by the Mayor for vagrancy. He had formerly been an inmate of the Catholic Orphan Asylum, from where he soon ran away. Officer Rivers took him to the refuge.

That Elegant Queensware which is at once the pride and joy of the Pittsburgh housekeeper, is from the celebrated Keystone Pottery of Messrs. Kier & Co., whose warehouse is at No. 363 Liberty street, near the Union Depot. Queensware and Bristol ware alike at this establishment, cannot be excelled.

Assault and Battery.—Robert Little and a man named Joyce got into an altercation on the street yesterday, when it is alleged the former knocked the latter down. Officer Chambers saw the transaction and arrested Little, who was brought before the who fined him $5 and costs. Joyce subsequently made information before Alderman Taylor, charging Little with assault and battery.

Add to the List.—One more has been added to the list. Yesterday morning Joseph M'Clinton, a resident of the Fifth Ward, Allegheny, but lately inmate of the Work House, became tired of its sylvan quiet, and decamped. Joseph was working about the boiler and took advantage of the absence of the others at dinner to clear out. He was observed and pursued but effected his escape.

Base Ball.—This afternoon the match game between the Allegheny and Osceola Base Ball clubs will take place at Union Park. Arrangements have been made for the accommodation of ladies and gentlemen spectators, so that all may have a good view of the play. Both clubs are in excellent practice, and an exciting contest is anticipated. Game will be called at 3½ o'clock.

The Athletics of Philadelphia will be here on the 25th, to play with the Allegheny.

Penn Avenue Extension.

Contractors are referred to the announcement in another column, giving notice that sealed proposals will be received until three o'clock of Monday, the 26th inst., for the grading, paving and curbing of Penn avenue between Butler and Forty-sixth streets. This is a desirable contract, the terms of payment being especially worthy of attention. We would advise contractors who wish to secure a nice job on the best of terms to put in their bids.

Pennsylvania Patentees.

The following United States patents were issued to citizens of Western Pennsylvania during the week ending July 12, 1870:

No. 105,174. Muloy saw hangings; Daniel Cilley, Osceola Mills.

No. 105,199. Rod coupling; Francis J. Hanna, Petroleum Centre.

No. 105,235. Sucker-rod coupling; Jacob Odell, Petroleum Centre.

No. 105,384. Knee lever, for melodeon or organ swell; Orison C. Whitney, Meadville.

No. 105,356. Envelope opener; Lebbus A. Miller, Sewickleyville.

No. 105,352. Railway splice and nut lock; John Minor and Silas Merrick, New Brighton.

No. 105,365. Corn planter; James M. Piper, Harrison City.

Design for kitchen boiler; Wm. B. Scaife, Pittsburgh.

Election of Teachers.

The following teachers were re-elected to serve in the Eleventh ward Public Schools for the ensuing year: John J. Taggart, Principal. Assistants—Miss H. M. Mathews, Miss Irenia Rutledge, Miss M. E. Erwin, Mrs. Hattie Davis, Miss Lizzie A. Laughlin, Miss Anna Moore, Miss M. E. Taggart, Miss Maggie Marshal, Miss Jennie Moffat, Miss Jennie E. Smith, Miss Aggie Martin, Miss Lottie C. Martin.

The Board of Directors of the North Sub-District (Fourth ward) schools, have re-elected Mr. Logan as Principal, and all his Assistants during the last year, to serve during the ensuing school year.

At a special meeting of the Forbes District (Sixth ward) School Board held last evening, the following teachers were selected for the ensuing year.

Ann Street School.—Principal—L. H. Eaton, Mary D. Garvin, Emma D. Wallace, E. W. Lempre, Amelia Withrow, A. J. Jackson, C. J. Dragdon, C. M. Hartley, Mattie McMaster, Emma Neely, Lizzie McClaren, Jennie Simpson, Amelia McCreary, Agnes McFadden, Aggie M. Lupton, Cornelia Randolph.

Second Avenue School.—M. J. Proudfoot, Anna M. Wetter.

Out from the City.

Who that is cooped up in the hot, dusty, crowded city during the day, does not long to shake its dust from the feet and retire to the green fields and breathe the pure life giving atmosphere of a rural home. To many this boon is denied by reason of the scarcity of eligible sites within convenient distance of the city—which combines its advantages for business and suburban comfort with health and happiness. If any of our readers are desirous of such a place, they can now secure one which exactly fills the bill. Mr. John Grazier has an elegant, double two story brick house at Edgewood station on the Pennsylvania Railroad, a few miles from the Union Depot, and accesible by trains nearly every hour of the day and evening. The house contains fifteen rooms, with a well of soft water in the kitchen, and is surrounded by about three acres of ground tastefully laid out and ornamented with trees and lawns and flowers. It is seldom such a fine opportunity is offered, whether in location or terms, and any who may be desirous of investing in real estate should consult Mr. Grazier's advertisement, which will be found in another column.

The Iron City Mutual Life Insurance Company of Pennsylvania.

It cannot but be gratifying to the patrons and friends of this young institution as the first and only one of the kind established in the western part of our State, to know of the prosperity attending it and the general favor it is receiving from the insuring community.

As an evidence of this we refer our readers to the fact that the Company received through one of its agents five applications from one of our manufacturing establishments, all of which were examined at one visit by a physician of the Company and handed in by the agent at the office of the Company.

Thus the good work of rendering protection to men's families and relatives goes on. The benefits and blessings of life insurance are being extended to those who are willing to give it sufficient thought to know of the real benefits of the combined elements of protection and production these institutions afford.

The office of the Company is No. 75 Federal street, Allegheny City, Pa.

Persons desiring to effect insurance on their lives will cheerfully have the advantages of life insurance explained by calling at the office of the Company.

Personals.

MR. R. J. SMITH, who lost his leg on the 7th inst., from an accident on the Inclined Plane, it is feared, will not survive the shock. He has been gradually sinking since the unfortunate occurrence. Last evening his physician gave up all hopes of saving his life.

MR. FRANK P. CASE, who has been dangerously ill, with brain fever, for some weeks has so far recovered as to make his appearance on the street yesterday.

REV. GEORGE P. HAYS, of Allegheny City, preached on Sunday morning in the Park church, and in the evening at the First Presbyterian church, at Erie, Pa., to a large number of people.

MR. JOHN SAVAGE is lying dangerously ill, with inflammation of the bowels, at his residence, on Wylie avenue. Poor hopes are entertained of his recovery.

MRS. C. A. BOUCHER left yesterday for a trip to the seashore, to recuperate her health. We are sorry to learn this estimable lady has been in very poor health for several months.

THOMAS M. MARSHALL, Esq. and family are spending the summer at Bedford Springs.

WALTER S. MCCUNE, Esq., a member of the bar of this county and late Secretary of the Pittsburgh Law Association has located in Ironton, Ohio, where he proposes to pursue his profession. Mr. McCune is a finished scholar and an able lawyer, as well as a polished gentleman, and if industry and close application to business coupled with his legal attainments will ensure success Walter is sure to succeed.

JOHN H. PAGE, JR., at a meeting held on Wednesday at Mansfield, Ohio, was elected one of the Directors of the Baltimore, Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad. A good selection.

HORRIBLE BRUTALITY.

Strange Conduct of Two Drivers—A Valuable Horse Killed.

Yesterday afternoon the Eighth ward, Allegheny, was the locality of a most brutal case of cruelty to animals, which hardly falls within the bounds of conception. One of the drivers employed by Mr. Adam Emich loaded a wagon with lumber from a lot near Alderman Egger's office on Ohio street. The horse attached to the vehicle moved along with it until the grade going out from the lot to the street was reached, when he was unable to go further. Just then John Sadler came along with his two horse team and stopped to render assistance. The two drivers consulted and then agreed upon a plan. Sadler's wagon was backed up close to the "stalled" horse's head and a strap fixed to it with the other end fastened around the lower jaw of the horse. Sadler's team was then started, and the strain on the strap actually tore away half of the lower jaw of the horse to which it was attached. The two men engaged in this transaction seemed to feel indifferent to its result, and when it was accomplished the victim was taken out of the wagon, and driven to his stable. Subsequently it was shot, after suffering terrible agony for several hours. Mr. Emrich was not at home at the time, and knew nothing of it until evening. The affair occurred shortly before three o'clock. The horse was valued at three hundred and twenty-five dollars, and was one of the best of Mr. Emrich's stock. What possessed the drivers to act in such a fiendish, cruel manner, it is hard to conjecture. Later in the evening information was made against them before Alderman Eggers, for cruelty to animals, upon which they will have a hearing to-day.

ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.

Regular Meeting—Petitions and Remonstrances—Reports of Committees—Resolutions and Ordinances.

Select Council.

Members present: Callery, Hall, Huckenstine, Long, Megraw, J. C. Patterson, A. Patterson, Reiter, Riddle, Wettach, and President McBrier.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

PETITIONS, ETC.

Mr. Wettach presented a petition for the grading and paving of Church alley. Referred.

Mr. Callery, a remonstrance against the passage of the ordinance providing for assessment on River avenue. No action.

REPORT OF THE WATER COMMITTEE.

Mr. Wettach, Chairman of the Water Committee, submitted the following report:

Gentlemen: In relation to a better supply of water above Ledlie street, in the Second ward, your Committee report that in a few weeks the new pipe traversing the upper section of the city will be laid and an ample supply of water given.

In relation to the petition for a large pipe on Irwin avenue, your Committee recommend that instead of continuing the pipe on Irwin avenue that the six inch pipe on Washington street be continued from Taggart street to connect with the present pipe on Irwin avenue.

The prayer of petitioners for water pipe on Market street is granted from present terminus on Market street to the coffin factory, near Bayard street, and we submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Superintendent of Water Works be and he is hereby authorized to lay water pipe on Washington avenue from Taggart street, to connect with the present pipe on Irwin avenue, also on Market street from present terminus of pipe to coffin factory near Bayard street.

Mr. Hall, from the Committee on Finance, submitted a communication from the Controller relative to the bill of Finan & Howley and the bill of Hastings, for paving.

Mr. McBrier, in the chair, stated that Councils had already authorized the payment of the bill of Hastings, and the other had been ordered to be paid some time since.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee with power to act in the matter of Finan & Howley's bill.

FINANCIAL.

Mr. Hall presented the report of the Finance Committee, accompanying which was the following resolutions:

Resolved, That a warrant be drawn in favor of T. H. Gibson for $43, being the difference due him in excess of frontage tax paid on Sedgwick street sewer.

Also, the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Controller be and he is hereby authorized to employ an assistant for the ensuing three months, at the sum of $50 per month.

The report was received and the resolutions adopted under suspension of the rules.

COMMON GROUNDS.

Mr. Long presented the report of the Committee on Common Grounds, accompanying which was the following resolution:

Resolved, That the boundaries of the public parks of the city of Allegheny be extended to embrace all that territory lying adjacent to the Seminary purchase, and bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at the corner of South avenue and School streets, thence by a line drawn in extension of School street to high water line on the Allegheny river; thence by the high water line down said river to a point opposite the mouth of Allegheny avenue; thence in a direct line to South avenue; thence by South avenue to the place of beginning, provided the same can be procured on terms to be approved by Councils.

Resolved, That the Park Commissioners are hereby instructed to take the necessary measures for procuring the above territory as provided for in the supplement to the park act, and they are further instructed in case any amounts are agreed on or are assessed as to be paid in extinguishment of any alleged claims to any motion of said territory, to report the same for the approval of Councils before any final action is taken.

On motion of Mr. Hall the matter was laid over for the present.

CONTROLLER'S REPORT.

Mr. Hall, Chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the report of the Controller, giving in detail the expenditures of the city for the month of June, of which the following is a

RECAPITULATION.

No. 1. Salaries	$1,630 06
No. 3. Fire Engines and Hose	2,242 80
No. 4. Printing	1,002 75
No. 5. Streets and Bridges	2,730 33
No. 6. Wharves, &c	676 52
No. 7. Surveys	591 00
No. 8. Police	2,880 08
No. 9. Contingent Fund	133 04
No. 11. Water Works	39,846 47
No. 13. Gas	367 23
No. 16. City Property	5,904 74
Total	$58,045 02

Of the above amount $33,636.36 is for water main pipe now being laid, leaving the remaining expenses for the month, $24,418.66.

Report approved and warrants ordered for the payment of the bills.

REPORT OF THE STREET COMMITTEE.

Mr. J. C. Patterson, chairman of the Street Committee, presented the report of the committee, from which we extract the following:

The committee authorize a slight change in the grade of Union avenue. They also favor the construction of the Ohio avenue sewer, and report adversely to the paving of Vista street; a supplemental ordinance authorizing the construction of a piece of sewer three hundred feet long as an out-let for the Spring Garden avenue sewer.

The following ordinances accompanied the report: For grading and paving Union alley; for grading and paving Laurel alley; for grading and paving Rush street; for sewer on Union alley; for grading and paving Pasture alley; for opening an alley in the First ward.

The report was received and the ordinances referred to were passed under a suspension of the rules.

The matter of the change of grade on Irwin avenue was laid on the table.

CITY PROPERTY.

Mr. Riddle, chairman of the Committee on City Property, presented the following report:

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee on City Property respectfully report that with the completion of the fence enclosing the Second ward Square, some steps should be taken toward the improvement of the grounds enclosed. Your Committee have no plans to propose, but suggest that the matter be referred to the Park Commissioners, with the request that they beautify the same in a manner alike creditable to the city and themselves, and therefore offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Park Commissioners be and they are hereby requested to improve the ground in the Second ward Square as soon as practicable.

The report was received.

Mr. Long amended the resolution by directing the amount to be expended to be two hundred dollars.

Mr. Hall called for the yeas and nays, and the amendment was lost by a vote of 5 yeas to 6 nays.

Mr. Megraw moved that the resolution be referred back to the Committee to report a plan and probable cost of the improvement. Adopted.

Mr. Riddle submitted a plan for a drinking fountain for the First ward Square.

On motion of Mr. Megraw the matter was laid over.

Also, a resolution authorizing the Controller to transfer $6,000 from the Contingent Fund to City Property. Adopted.

Also a resolution instructing the Committee on Markets to report an ordinance providing a suitable place for vehicles on market days. Adopted.

Mr. Hall offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Controller's report and the bills approved by the appropriate committees, to be paid, be prepared and submitted to the Finance Committee prior to the meeting of Councils, at which the same shall be submitted for approval.

Considerable discussion ensued, and pending the adoption of the resolution Council adjourned.

Common Council.

President Warner called this branch to order at eight o'clock, At the call of the roll by Clerk Dilworth the following members answered to their names:

Messrs. Ashworth, Brown, Brahm, Comley, Dalzell, Gilmore, Hanna, Hunker, Hastings, Herchenroether, McNeill, Rowbottom, Slack, Taggert, Thompson, Voegtly, and President Warner.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS, ETC.

Mr. Voegtly presented a petition asking that the grading of Vista street be completed.

Referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Brown, a petition for water pipe on School Street, Third ward.

Referred to the Committee on Water.

Mr. Rowbottom, petition for paving of Chartiers street, between Washington and Nixon streets.

Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Hanna, petition from citizens on Ann and Corry streets asking for a reduction of tax for construction of sewer on those thoroughfares. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Rowbottom, remonstrance against the paving of Rush alley, Sixth ward, for the reason that the tax for other street improvements had been as much as the citizens could pay during the present year. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Dalzell, petition for gas lamp on Goodrich street, midway between Lacock and Robinson streets. Referred to Gas Committee with power to act.

NEW GAS POSTS.

Mr. Rowbottom, from the Committee on Gas, presented a report recommending the erection of gas lamps as follows: on Ledlie street, between Federal and Beaver streets; corner of Lighthill and Ridge avenue; corner of Belmont street and Bridge avenue, and on St. Clair street, provided there is a main. The report was also accompanied by the correspondence between the Committee and the Gas Company in relation to the laying of mains on streets where gas lamps were now needed but could not be erected for want of mains. The Committee cited the localities where the mains have not been laid, and asked that the Company take immediate action.

In reply the Company state that some of the localities named have mains, and that they will endeavor to supply the want in other sections as rapidly as possible.

The report was received, resolutions adopted and correspondence filed.

THE MARKET ORDINANCE.

Mr. Comley, Chairman of the Joint Committee on Ordinances and Market, reported that they had under consideration the petition of a large number of citizens asking for a repeal of section 11, chap. 13, of the City Code, or at least a modification of the same that would permit them to buy and sell at all times without being subjected to fine or penalty. The Committee had decided to recommend no change and reported accordingly adversely to granting the prayer of the petitioners.

The report was read.

Mr. Hastings moved to refer the report back to the committee with instructions to report the change as desired by the petitioners. He contended that the section was injust to storekeepers as it prevented them from selling in market hours anything brought to their stores by the country people, or bought in the market during market hours.

Mr. Hanna said this was not the meaning of the ordinance. It simply was designed to prevent storekeepers from buying up marketing and retailing it out again to the people. The effect would be to close the market house altogether.

The debate which followed developed some interesting information in relation to huckstering and its tricks and profits.

A vote was finally taken when Mr. Hastings' motion was lost, and the report was received and filed.

CITY REVENUES.

Mr. Hanna, from the Committee on Markets, reported the following receipts for June:

Duncan Dallas, clerk of markets	$1,455 60
G. B. McNulty, Diamond scales	174 90
R. T. White, Second Ward scales	227 90
	$1,858 40

Received and filed.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

was then taken up.

The resolution recalling the report of viewers on Union street, Seventh Ward, was considered in C. C., June 9th, and adopted. S. C. non-concurred June 24th; C. C., July 14th, adhered to their action, and appointed Messrs. Comley, Slack and Brown a Committee of Conference.

Ordinance for construction of sewers on Ohio avenue, in S. C. June 24th. Passed. In C. C., July 14th, rules suspended and ordinance passed finally.

Resolution instructing Street Commissioner to confer with officers of Fort Wayne Railroad Company in relation to laying a flagstone crossing at the entrance to the cartway on Federal street.

In S. C. June 9th, read and adopted. In C. C. June 23rd laid over, and July 14th laid over indefinitely.

Mr. Voeghly called up the plan of the proposed sewer on Federal street from the Diamond to Montgomery avenue.

Quite a lengthy discussion ensued upon the question of adopting the plan.

Mr. Slack contended that a few property holders had rushed the ordinance for the sewer through the Council, and that others subsequently remonstrated against the building of the sewer. The Committee had never reported in relation to this remonstrance, and he thought no action should be taken until the remonstrants had a fair hearing.

Mr. Hanna thought the sewer should be built. One of the property owners along the line, was erecting a handsome building which would be an ornament to the city, and it was necessary for himself and others to have the sewer so as to have their property properly drained.

Mr. Slack contended that as other property holders said it was not necessary, it was nothing but just that both sides have a fair hearing.

Finally a motion was made to postpone the matter indefinitely, which was carried.

Mr. Hastings presented a petition for the establishment of a grade on Steep Street. Referred to City Engineer with instructions to report a grade at next meeting of Councils.

Mr. Comley, a resolution authorizing the erection of a gas lamp corner West and First streets. Adopted.

Adjourned.

OVER THE CLIFF.

A child falls from the Cliff on Bluff street, a distance of Three Hundred feet, and escapes with a Broken Arm.

Verily "truth is stranger than fiction." A novel writer who would attempt to throw his hero or heroine over a precipice three hundred feet in height, and tell his readers that the fall resulted in nothing more serious than a broken arm, would be charged with lunacy, yet something equally improbable occurred in the bounds of this city yesterday.

In the Sixth Ward is located Boyd's Hill, the summit of which reaches an altitude of over three hundred feet above the level of the Monongahela river, which flows along its south side. At the base of the hill runs the track of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, and along the brow of the cliff, fully three hundred feet above is Bluff street. The descent in many places is perpendicular while in others, the cliff at the top juts over like a massive cornice as it were, to the hill, while for nearly the entire length of the hill its face is covered with projecting and shelving rocks. About eleven o'clock yesterday morning Martin Crossman, four years of age, son of Rev. James Crossman, with a number of other boys, most of them a little older than he, were sitting on one of the projecting rocks at the head of Van Braam street, at which point the cliff reaches its highest altitude and the descent is almost if not quite perpendicular to the railroad track, a distance of three hundred feet. One of the larger boys discovered something at the edge of the rock which pleased his fancy, and requested Martin to get it for him. In obedience to the request, the little fellow stooped over to secure the coveted article, and, losing his balance, fell headlong down the precipice, striking head foremost on the railroad track below. A gentleman at work a short distance from the spot saw him fall, and at the same instant saw the express train on the railroad rapidly approaching the spot where the body was lying. Seeing the impending danger he rushed to the spot, and at the risk of his life, sprang upon the track in front of the train, which came thundering along at lightning speed but a few yards distant, and seizing the insensible body of the child, had barely time to spring to the side of the track next to the hill, where, laying closely to the rocks, he remained until the train had passed, brushing his clothes in its rapid flight, so narrow was the space between it and the rock. He then turned his attention to the child in his arms, to his utter amazement he found it alive, but insensible from the severe shock. He quickly had it conveyed to the residence of its parents on Patrick's alley and Drs. Balten and Greenwalt were summoned. On examination it was found that the little fellow had received severe injuries, though so far as could be ascertained none of them are necessarily fatal. His right arm was fractured in two places and there were two punctured wounds on the head, but the skull was not fractured. There were quite a number of contusions on different parts of the body none of which were of a serious character. The fractures were reduced and the other wounds properly dressed and at a late hour last evening the child was in a fair way to recover.

That the little fellow was not killed instantly is certainly but little less than a miracle, and that accidents are not more frequent at this place is a great wonder. We, on the occasion of an accident which occurred at or near this place over a year since, urged not only the propriety but the absolute necessity of having a fence erected along the brow of the hill, as it is beyond doubt one of the most dangerous places in the city. Nothing has as yet been done in the matter and we presume will not be until two or three fatal accidents occur. A few hundred dollars would suffice to place a substantial iron fence from one end of the bluff to the other, and for what purpose are the people taxed if not for the protection of their lives and property. Bluff street is one of the most delightful promenades in or about the city and would be much more frequented by persons in search of a spot where they could breathe the pure air, if it was not for the dangers to be apprehended. Who will attend to the matter?

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions.—Judge Collier.

THURSDAY, JULY 14th.—In the case of the Commonwealth vs. C. B. Strain, et al., previously reported, the jury failed to agree and were discharged. We were informed that they stood eleven for acquital and one for conviction.

Commonwealth vs. John Auth, indicted for assault and battery, James Oldham prosecutor. The defendant it appears is manager of a glass house on the South side, and some days since a number of boys were playing in a pile of sand; in order to drive them away he threw a stone against a shed, and it is alleged that the stone struck a little boy, son of the prosecutor. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and the defendant to pay the costs.

Emma Cantwell, the "female detective," who was committed to jail some days since on a charge of assault and battery, was brought into Court and released on bail. J. C. Smith, of the Twenty-first ward, becoming responsible in the sum of $800 for her appearance.

Commonwealth vs. Thomas Williams, indicted for larceny; James Pearsall prosecutor. The prosecutor came to the city on the 1st of July, and sometime during the day it is alleged that Williams took nine dollars out of his pocket. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and the defendant was remanded for sentence.

Commonwealth vs. Nathan T. Kunkle, indicted for perjury, Samuel Long, prosecutor. The defendant, it appears, was an agent for the sale of Wheeler and Wilson's Sewing Machine, and it is alleged that he fraudulently executed a lease for a machine, to which he affixed the name of Samuel Long, the prosecutor, to whom he owed a bill for meat. The lease, it appears, was turned over to Mr. Gibson, the agent in this city, by whom the defendant was employed, and that when Mr. Long was called upon for the monthly rent he denied having executed any lease, and said that his name was forged to the instrument. The case was on trial when Court adjourned.

Military.

The military spirit is aroused in the Twelfth ward, and active efforts are being made toward the organization of a company of Zouaves. At the preliminary meeting held a few evenings since, thirty-nine were enrolled, and from the enthusiasm manifested it was evident that no difficulty would be experienced in completing the roll. Another meeting will be held to-morrow night in Independence Hall, to which all favorable to the object are invited. In the meantime those wishing to sign the roll can do so by calling upon Thomas Young, No. 893 Penn street.

A Card.

Wm. Semple, 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny, gratefully thanks his numerous customers for their very liberal patronage, and would respectfully inform them that until further notice his store will be closed on Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock.

"DE LEETLE POYS."

An Inspired Teuton—The Infant Twain—A Grandparent's Rhapsodies—Missed by the Census Taker.

The dignified and urbane genius who presides over the columns of a morning contemporary was serenely seated upon his editorial tripod the other day, with his benignant gaze fixed upon the kaladeoscopic throng of humanity which passed in review before his sanctum, when suddenly his pleasant summer reverie was interrupted. An animated human form, "long as wide, and deep as it was long," filled the doorway and obstructed his view. A smile of ecstatic bliss rested upon the apparition's countenance, great beads of prespiration rolled from its classic brow, a bass drum apparently, but which closer inspection revealed to be a component part of the body, was borne in front, the light of joyous inspiration twinkled from diminutive eyes like gaslights in a foggy morning. Hatless and coatless, a red bandanna floated gaily from the right hand, the left grasped a money wallet plethoric with greenbacks, while the nethers exhibited a state of lively emotion as though possessed of the spirit of Terpsichore.

Accustomed as the editorial vision was to strange sights and scenes, this was yet sufficient to engage immediate and earnest attention.

The figure paused a moment, and then boldly advancing poised itself upon its drumsticks in front of the journalist.

"Yah," wildly, joyously, rapturously, like the music of many waters, issued from a chasm which would have been the admiration of any dentist.

"Well," was the only response which could be summoned by the man of the pen.

"Vash is dish blace," sonorously resounded through the apartment.

The reply was given, with a statement of the circulation and advertising rates of the journal.

"Yah, yah; vere ish de editure man, all de vile?" was the next enthusiastic inquiry.

The individual referred to humbly signified his presence by a wave of the hand and a pensive sigh.

One look into the editorial countenance, one clutch at the wallet, a crisp greenback being abstracted therefrom, a wild wave of the red bandanna, and then—St. Anthony himself would have hidden his head in shame and given the palm of victory to the animated beer barrel which gyrated over the editorial matting.

On went the dance, the joy was unconfined. Editors looked on in amazement, reporters for the moment laid aside note book and pencil, the click, click of the compositorial room was hushed, pressman and pressboys were impressed with the incident, and for an interval journalistic responsibility and toil were forgotten as one and all grouped around the terpsichorean scene.

At length the fleet footed child of three score years exhausted its exuberant ecstacy and the dance ceased as suddenly as it had commenced.

"Bublish de neush. Here's de monish," broke the stillness.

"What news?" Reportorial faculties were alive.

"De frau, de twins, last night. De frau, de leetle poys."

"My good man," replied the editor upon whom began to dawn the truth, "calm yourself a moment and tell us all."

"Yah, Hans and Katrina, mine daughter, married Hans, bubblish, send mine home to Shermany, tell de beoples dere about Hans, Katrina and de leetle poys."

The enthusiastic grandparent of "de leetle poys," for so he now appeared, again essayed a terpsichorean feat and concluded by laying a greenback in front of "de editure man" with "yahs," noddings, winkings and blinkings sufficient to have made his fame immortal as a facial contortionist.

His desire being thus clear, the pencil demolisher, quickly recorded in fitting language the news of Hans and Katrina's prosperity, for "bublicashun."

The announcement was read to the aged relative, whose lineaments during the ceremony passed through all the stages from grave meditation to bliss unalloyed.

"Yah yah dash is shust right" was the emphatic endorsement.

But one thing remained to satisfy his joyous soul. Being interpreted it resulted in the formation of the procession, dignified editor and rapturous Teuton at the head, grave reporters and sedate compositors in the center, vivacious office and press boys bringing up the rear. The saloon keeper avers that in all his calender of bright prosperous days none are more pleasant to recall than that which witnessed this gathering at his fount.

A few evenings since many pedestrians along one of our principal thoroughfares, paused in their steps to enjoy the melody of a popular brass band. Out upon the still evening air floated the tender, touching cadences of "Shoo Fly," intermingled with the plaintive instructions "Johnny fill up the Bowl," and the defiant assertion, "We won't go home till morning," together with "The Star Spangled Banner," and many other patriotic, sentimental and sublime creations of the masters. Had inquiry been made, it would have ascertained that this grand ovation was in honor of Hans and Katrina, and commemorative of the auspicious and happy advent of two strangers missed by the census taker—the parents' delight, the grandsire's joy, "de leetle poys."

HOMICIDE.

The Washington County Murder—Further Particulars of the Case—The Conspirators' Actions.

Readers of the GAZETTE will remember the account of the murder of Samuel Brown, a colored citizen of Washington county, which occurred about ten days ago. The Washington Reporter has the following additional particulars: It was elicited in the course of the investigation, held before Esquire McClure, that on several occasions Brown's wife and her especial paramour, (John Fulham) had conspired to make away with Brown. They had even gone so far as to procure the strychnine with some whiskey given to him, and in various other ways sought to put him out of the road. It seems that in all these attempts the daughter of Brown and the colored man, Jerry Knight, now in jail, were either active or passive participants, as was also another black man named Sam Hall, who figures occasionally during the investigation. In the last act of the drama, Brown, his wife and daughter, were in Middletown on the Saturday believed to be the day of his death. The mother and daughter left town together, before Brown, but were overtaken by the latter in the neighborhood of Pleasant Hill Seminary. Their course was directed toward the residence of a family named Woods, with whom it appears they were all accustomed to lodge at night.

In the vicinity of a ford across the creek between the Seminary and the house in question the deed was perpetrated, although the exact spot has not been ascertained. It would seem beyond a doubt, from all the circumstances, that the mother and daughter decoyed the husband and father to the spot for the purpose of having him murdered. The daughter in her testimony before the Justice declares that when they reached the vicinity of the ford of the creek, her mother told her to wait while she and Brown went to a cool spring at some distance to get a drink; that her mother returned without Brown, and on being asked where he was said he had gone to Wm. Leggit's to buy some cider; that her mother asked her if she had heard any noise, and on her replying that she did hear loud words, she was again interrogated as to whether she had seen John Fulham; upon her answering in the negative, the mother pointed in the direction of some trees and said, "there he goes through the woods." This, according to her account, is all she knows of the matter. The evidence elicited during the investigation shows, however, that she had been present at many meetings of her mother with Fulham, Hall and Knight, in which the means to compass Brown's death were discussed. She is likewise a woman of abandoned character and of notoriously bad conduct. From other testimony it appears that Jerry Knight started from the Seminary about the time the parties assembled in the woods near the ford, and went in the direction in which the murder is supposed to have been committed. It is proved, however, we believe, that he turned back after reaching the edge of the woods. The natural presumption is that he was in the plot to kill Brown, but being a terrible coward his heart had failed him at the last moment. We have not space to enumerate the burden of evidence taken, but all the circumstances, so far as they can be reached, point directly to Fulham, Brown's wife and daughter as the guilty parties.

"One thing has become clearly established by the crime and its investigation, viz.: That a gang of lawless and unprincipled colored people had been kept for years about Pleasant Hill Seminary, and that their headquarters had become throughout the later period of the institution a den of every kind of infamy.

THE NEW MARKET HOUSE.

Brief Description of the Proposed Building.

It was a wise act on the part of the Market Committee of Councils to select as architect, Mr. Samuel W. Richards, for the proposed new market house to be erected on the property recently purchased by the city at the corner of Fifth avenue and Miltenberger street. He has, in conjunction with the chairman and members of the Committee, labored very zealously to furnish a complete and model plan, and one which when carried into execution will furnish a market building which will prove an ornament and credit to the city. It will be built of plain brick, fronting on Fifth avenue, 222 feet 6½ inches and running back along Miltenberger street 119 feet 5½ inches. On Fifth avenue it will have three projections of 5 feet 7 inches each, crowned with a pediment which will form part of the main roof. On each corner of the building on the avenue will be commodious and well lighted store rooms, while restaurants are arranged far to the rear. The stores will be supplied with front and side entrances and will have nine large windows. Cellars will be put under all. At the lower end of the market a comfortable room will built for the office of the Superintendent. The interior of the market will be large, airy and commodious. It will contain seventy-two meat stalls for butchers, each ten feet long, and ten vegetable stands in the centre, each thirty feet long. In addition to the latter, vegetable stands will be arranged for along the walls and about the entrance ways. The fish market will be located at the upper end of the market in a passage way twenty-two feet wide, giving sufficient room for a team to pass from front to rear, and this will be covered by a broad projecting roof. The great advantage of having the fish stalls separated from the market proper with heavy brick walls is a good feature in the plan. The interior of the market will be amply lighted and abundantly well ventilated, being supplied with open truss work and numerous windows moveable on pivots attached to cords and easily controlled at pleasure. There are many other features in the plan worthy of notice, but it will suffice to say that our neighbors in the wards to be benefitted by the new market will have no reason to complain of its arrangements and accommodation. It is estimated that the building will cost from twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars. Proposals are now being received for its erection at the office of the accomplished architect, Mr. S. W. Richards, No. 35 Bank Block, Fifth avenue. Work will be commenced about the first of August, and it is confidently expected that the building will be ready to occupy about the first of next December.

CAVES IN HAWAII.

Dr. Beratz, a German naturalist, who is visiting the Sandwich Islands, thus describes what he saw on the top of Mauna Kea:

On our ascent to the top of Mauna Kea we visited the little lake of Waiau, situated at an elevation of twelve thousand feet, in a depression formed by the numerous snow-covered peaks of the mountain. The lake was covered over with a crust of ice two or three inches thick, but not strong enough to skate upon. To find ice in the tropics strikes the traveler with surprise, and here we feel inclined to play with it like children. About a mile below that we found a large cave, where the Hawaiians in older times manufactured their stone implements for cutting down trees and excavating canoes. On our second visit to these mountain regions we discovered a number of caves all formerly used for similar purposes. These caves were undoubtedly inhabited in former days. In every one we found a fire-place near the entrance, showing that the hands of men had completed what nature had left unfinished. Where the natural entrance to a cave was too large we found rocks piled up like a wall, and the fissures and openings between them filled up with chips and small stones. In other caves again, where the entrance had proved too steep or too rough to be comfortable, there flat stones had been placed like steps, down which we descended into these little mountain habitations. This part of the mountain—where these caves and the quarries from which the material for the adze manufacture was procured are situated—is destitute of vegetation. On examining the interior of the caves, we found pieces of kapa of various texture and color; bones of dogs and pigs, cocoanut shells, banana stems, pieces of awa root, and sugar cane, old mats, firewood and heaps of Opihi shells. Outside of the caves, the ready-made stone adzes were piled up in large heaps on both sides of the entrance. The most striking thing of this whole stone adze manufacture, and which at the same time gives us somewhat of an idea of the extent to which it was carried on, the number of ages during which it was continued, and the amount of people working constantly at it—are the large mounds of little chips, thin and sharply pointed, in front of every cave, twenty to thirty feet in height and thickness. In fact, these wonderful mounds, visible for some distance, led to the discovery of other caves. It is only a short time since the "stone age" of these islands closed, and the first iron tools and metal instruments were imported by foreigners. Until then the Hawaiians worked like the Aborigines of other parts of the world, and, like our own Indo-German forefathers, with stone implements. Flint arrow-heads and spear heads, stone knives and war clubs are found in Europe and America, sometimes buried deep in the ground, with human bones and those of extinct animals. The more peaceful Hawaiians had only stone adzes.

A HERO.

A Desperate Struggle With a Mad Dog—A Dog Catcher Risks his Life to Save the Lives of Others.

[From the St. Louis Democrat.]

On Wednesday last a rabid dog appeared on Lesperance street, and after biting several other dogs and a cow made several attempts to bite the pedestrians on the street. Louis Strumberg, one of the dog catchers, hearing of it, and knowing the street to be full of children, several of whom would probably have been bitten but for him, took his wire noose and pursued the animal. Coming up with him, he succeeded in getting the loop over his head, and a desperate struggle ensued.

The dog, a large hound, at once endeavored to fasten his foaming jaws upon Strumberg, who for a time, with considerable difficulty, held him off with the wire. The noose, however, finally broke before the other dog catchers could come up with and assist him, and the animal springing upon the man, caught his hand in his mouth and tore it in a shocking manner. He then ran down the street, with the foam dripping from his jaws, and getting into the rank weeds growing upon the flats near the river was lost to sight. He was found after a five hours' hunt, and shot by one of the other men.

The wounds on Strumberg's hand were at once cauterized, but the hand began to inflame, and on Saturday he exhibited unmistakable signs of hydrophobia.

His friends, learning that Dr. Schmidt, of Carondelet, was said to be possessed of a mad stone, had him taken there, when the stone was applied to the wound. The stone certainly drew from them a greenish fluid said to be poison, but whether the man's life can be saved by it remains to be seen. At last accounts he was rapidly growing worse. Stumberg deliberately periled his own life to save the lives of others, and it in a manner that few would have attempted.

Vivisection and Metamorphosis.

[From the New York Times, July 8th]

A whimsical uproar has lately been excited in London by an incident that a few years ago would have made the Tribune's mouth water. They are doing all manner of odd things in France just now, and among the rest a M. Reverdin has been detaching pieces of skin from a human subject and applying them to the raw surface of a burn, so as to make a new skin. Fired by a natural spirit of emulation, Mr. George Pollock, of St. George's Hospital, London, has been essaying to do the same thing. A white child had been accidentally burned, and Mr. Pollock took a bit of skin from the shoulder of a negro and applied it to the injured part. The surgical operation was successful, but its moral effect appears to have been unfortunate. It was straightway reported, first, that the poor black man had been flayed against his will; and, secondly, that the design of the operator was to change the child into a negro, in total disregard of the wishes of the parties chiefly concerned. A good many poor people were justly indignant at the idea of so astounding and improper a metamorphosis, believing, perhaps, with a not unusual pride of race, that if any change of the sort were attempted, it should be to the type which is dominant within sound of Bow Bells. Some of the London papers have actually found it necessary to explain that the experiment was made in order to show what part of the covering tissue it is which is concerned in the development of the new skin; that the negro received a sovereign for the bit of skin taken from him, and cheerfully parted with the treasure for that consideration, and that Mr. George Pollock had no idea of changing his little patient into a colored child, except to the extent of a spot of less than a pea in size, and in order that the palpable difference in color and texture might assist in defining the steps of the experiment. The Lancet declares the proceeding to be one of the safest, humanest, and most interesting within the range of physiological science. It must be admitted, however, that the popular outcry seems to have had some plausible grounds for its justification, and supposing his first trial to have been successful, his colored man willing, and his supply of sovereigns unlimited, would not the temptation to go on and make his job a complete and symmetrical one have been rather hard for Mr. Pollock to resist? The experiment opens the door for not a little curious speculation, and it suggests a form of "miscegenation" not hitherto thought of by even the most ingenious of our American political physiologists.

The Strategy of Lovers.

A good story is told of two Detroiters, who, some time since, cultivated attachments for two wealthy young ladies who reside in one of our sister cities. The ladies visited this city a short time since, were taken to Put-in-Bay, and subsequently the gentlemen escorted them some distance by rail and steamer, on their way to the place of their residence. The Detroiters took a round-about way and dropped in at Chicago, where they immediately entered upon a course of convivaility which would undoubtedly have shocked the moral sense of their best friends. They dined, supped and drank, especially the latter, and while in the height of their enjoyment, their merry-making was disturbed by the advent of the brother of the ladies in question, who had been sent there by his anxious mother to look after the lovers before referred to, and ascertain their habits. Apologies were in vain. The young man announced his determination to report at home what he had seen, and for a time the blue prospects of blighted love flitted across the eyes of our gay Detroiters. Finally they determined upon a coup which settled the whole matter. The unexpected visitor was himself inveigled, made "tight," brought to Detroit, then sent home after he had solemnly promised never to reveal what he had felt or heard. No cards.—Detroit Times.

No more Ice—Use Iced water.

To the Editor of the Pall Mall Gazette.

Sir: I notice in your columns of yesterday a proposal to cheapen ice as a cure for drunkenness. I shall not enter on the question of the probable results in a sanitary point of view, but desire to point out that the great desideratum is not ice, but water cooled to 40 deg. or 45 deg. Fahrenheit. To cool London water to this temperature is a simple and comparatively inexpensive process. It is the production and storing of ice that with us is attended with great difficulties. During the past year I have occasion to study this question practically, with a view to insuring at any season, and in any country, that meats, to be preserved fresh might be cooled to fit them for the absorption of antiseptic gases. My experiments have mainly been made by an ether machine, constructed by Messrs. Liebe Brothers, which in itself has worked admirably, but until lately the best means of utilizing and saving the cold produced by such a machine was a mystery. There are two successful instances of reaping the full benefit to be derived from the use of either machines. The one now widely known, is that of Messrs. Truman, Hanbury & Co.'s brewery, where, instead of attempting to freeze, the cheaper plan of abstracting 15 degrees or 20 degrees of heat from London water is resorted to, and the second is that of the Paris glacieres. I have recently watched the skill with which the economizing of cold producing is provided for by the intelligent superintendent of this establishment, and with the same machines, and working twelve instead of twenty-four hours daily, he now produces 6,000 bottles of ice water against 1,500 produced two or three years since. Cold, therefore, can be had with certainty at a cheap rate, and the greater the improvements in steam boilers the cheaper will that cold be. It is one of the necessaries of the day, and the deficiency will be supplied in most countries by the artificial production of the amount of cold required in liquids or air, rather than by the expensive carriage and storage of unweildy and perishable mountains of ice. I remain, sir, your obdient servant, JOHN GAMGEE.

Paris, June 11, 1870.

A PARIS CABLEGRAM of the 12th says: The London Post recently published a short telegram from Tientsin, China, dated June 25, announcing the massacre of the French Secretary of Legation and other French residents by the native Chinese at Pekin on the 21st of that month. Nothing whatever confirmatory of this dispatch has since been received. The Government has nothing on the subject, and no dispatch treating of the matter other than this special to the Post, has as yet been made public anywhere in Europe. To-day, however, a private dispatch was received by a gentleman in this city from Pekin direct, dated June 22, a day later than that on which the reported massacre occurred—in which nothing at all is said concerning a matter of so grave importance to France, as well as to the whole world. It is, therefore, quite probable that the Post's special telegram was a hoax.
